Six Cats earn First Team All-League

SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

In baseball, a regulation batting order has nine slots.

Recently, Ignacio head coach Bert Miller received confirmation on something he, his staff, and basically every opponent on the Bobcats' 2016 schedule already knew: IHS' order was out of the ordinary, with an awesome six regulars named First Team All-San Juan Basin League.

Heading the list was senior infielder Anthony Manzanares, who also shared Player-of-the-Year honors with Dove Creek senior Jordan Ernst – voted last season's Class 1A POY after the Bulldogs' late-season sprint to a State Cham-

TRIBAL AFFAIRS

Growth Fund entity seeks dismissal of complaint

Staff report

SOUTHERN UTE INDIAN TRIBE

Recently, you may have read an article in The Durango Herald about a lawsuit filed by an individual named Christopher Chavez. In September 2015, Mr. Chavez filed a complaint in federal district court against the defendants, GRVP, LLC, Patrick Morrissey, Senior Vice President of the Growth Fund Real Estate Group, and Tom Shipps, attorney for GRVP, LLC. GRVP, LLC is an entity managed by the Southern Ute Growth Fund that has developed Three Springs, a community outside the exterior boundaries of the Southern Ute Indian Reservation. Contrary to the headlines in The Durango Herald, the Growth Fund has not been named in that lawsuit and neither has the Southern Ute Indian Tribe.

In response to Mr. Chavez's first complaint, GRVP, LLC, Mr. Morrissey, and Mr. Shipps asked for clarification of Mr. Chavez's claims. The Court agreed that his complaint did not explain what the defendants had allegedly done wrong, when they did it, or how they had injured Mr. Chavez. Unless the lawsuit papers describe those basic items, there is no opportunity for a fair defense or "due process." Since then, Mr. Chavez has been given several opportunities to comply with these minimal requirements.

Mr. Chavez appears to seek compensation for issues relating to his contractor's termination of his subcontract for construction work in Three Springs.

He has requested $15 million to remedy the harm

he allegedly suffered. Mr. Chavez has cited several federal and tribal laws to support his claims. Arguing that there is no connection between Mr. Chavez's factual allegations, the cited legal authority, and the parties named as defendants, in December 2015, GRVP, LLC, Mr. Morrissey, and Mr. Shipps filed a motion asking the presiding judge to dismiss Mr. Chavez's complaint. The judge has yet to rule on this motion.

Because it is not a party to the case, the Tribe has had little involvement in Chavez v. GRVP, LLC, but the Growth Fund's attorneys and the Tribe's Legal Department will monitor the case closely while they wait for the judge's decision on the motion to dismiss.

EPD gets assessment training

Damon Toledo
SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

The Colorado National Heritage Program and Army Corps of Engineers paid a visit to the Southern Ute Indian Tribe on Thursday, May 12 – providing training to associates from the Environmental Protection Department in regards to identifying proper wetlands across the Southern Ute Indian Tribe.

Damon Toledo/SU Drum

Kara Hellidge (Us Army Corps of Engineers) and Joanna Lemly (Colorado National Heritage Program) met with the Fish & Wildlife Department, Lands and Range Division, Water Quality Program, La Plata County, and Colorado Department of Transportation outside Scott's Pond where they tested plant life and soil colors – which determines the quality of a wetland.

The Southern Ute Indian Tribe is currently developing a protection plan that will safeguard wetlands across the reservation by providing assessments with proposed activities. These activities include wetland assessment, wetland prioritization, and mapping. These will rank the proposed wetlands in line of cultural use, ecological use, and wildlife use.

"The understanding of

soil types and how they're used to determine a wetland was probably the most least understanding subject for us, because some of us know about plants already, but some of us don't know about the [varieties] of soils," said Curtis Hartenstine, Water Quality Program Manager. "We've determined that a gray color in the soil is a big indicator that determines a wetland."

There are three assessments that define the quality of a wetland – plant life, soils, and hydrology (presence of water). If an investigated area matches two thirds of the assessments, then the wetland is considered to be in good quality. Wetlands are found using a GIS (geographic information system) that takes aerial photos of possible areas. The investigation continues with fieldwork to determine if the wetland is official.

Hartenstine expressed gratitude to Kara Hellidge and Joanna Lemly for taking the time to visit the reservation and provide the assessment training. Respectively, the Army Corps of Engineers and Colorado National Heritage Program play a major role in defining wetlands as well as determining the healthiness of them.

"Normally we go off the reservations for training, so we brought these two programs to us we can understand tribal wetlands in focus," Hartenstine commented. "We thought it was specifically important to bring them here and work on tribal lands with us."

with mountain lions. Over the last two decades, there has been a dramatic rise in cougar sightings and dangerous encounters on the urban fringes of numerous Western cities. In a few rare cases, there have been fatalities.

The goal of the exhibit is to create an understanding of the nature of these predators and their long, historic relationship with people. The exhibit blends science, history, and art to provide a comprehensive look at this mysterious predator. The exhibit will feature dioramas, fossil representation of extinct mountain lion relatives, pop art, and the history of fierce cats like the North American Lion and the Smilodon, popularly known as saber-tooth tigers.

In addition to the re-opening of the museum, the name of the museum has been modified to Southern Ute Museum and Cultural Center (SUMACc). The new museum acronym, SUMACc, reflects Ute heritage by honoring a plant that Ute basket makers harvest annually. Sumac, along with willow, are raw materials gathered in the fall, winter, or early spring by Ute basket makers.

SUMACc opened Saturday, May 21. Summer hours are Sunday-Saturday, 10 a.m. – 5 p.m., and Thursday, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m.

The museum is located just south of the Sky Ute Casino and Resort in Ignacio, Colorado.

to adopt, but it wasn't until she came to work for Social Services at the tribe that she really seen the need and decided to go through with the process, she said.

"It was easier for me to be a foster parent, because I'm not a case worker," Armijo said.

Armijo has been providing emergency foster care for the last eight years. All of the foster children she has taken in throughout the years have been Southern Ute tribal members.

Emergency foster care is care that is needed at that moment in time, usually for a few days or few weeks, and once a more permanent placement is found the child is moved to that home or facility, Shelly Thompson, Social Services Division Head said.

However, in some instances

Armijo has been turned into long-term foster parent, because she didn't want to see children go to a facility.

"I don't believe in shelters ... I couldn't let them go to a shelter," Armijo said about an emergency placement that turned long term.

Thompson agreed with Armijo, shelters are always a last resort.

"I don't like to send children to facilities," Thompson said. "If a kid is moved to the shelter that means they leave the community they leave the school, and leave pretty much everyone they know ... and that's not good for their mental or emotional well being."

Social Services is always looking for new foster parents, which would help keep children in the community and away from shelters. Right now Southern Ute Social Services has more foster children than they do foster families: the division has five foster families, Thompson said.

When asked about the struggles she faces as a foster parent, Armijo said she doesn't focus on herself; she's in it to help the kids.

"This is not about me; this is about them. For whatever reason they were sent my way ... I'm here to help them," Armijo said. "It's about taking care of the kids and their needs."

Armijo is the first foster parent from Social Ute Social Services to be recognized by the state. The state has been recognizing foster families for the past six years.

If you are interested in becoming a foster parent you can call the Southern Ute Social Services Division at 970-563-0209.

The staff will recognize two students a month for all their hard work and kindness given to others. Check the Drum each month and listen to KSUT for the announcement of the next honored students as well as an interview.

RANDY HERRERA

My name is Randy Herrera. I attend Ignacio Middle School, where I am in the 8th grade. My favorite subject in school is math. My grandmother is Vonestine William. I like participating in sports, wrestling and football. I want to be an engineer after high school. I have been chosen as Southern Ute Tribal student of the month of May because I have been nominated by teachers as a good role model for other kids.

Additional comments: Several IMS teachers nominated Randy for this award because he is a very pleasant and respectful person. Teachers also believe he is an excellent role model for other students. Many kids love to watch him "yo-yo". We will miss Randy at the middle school, but are eager to see him through high school.

PEACE RUN

Team embarks on 10,000-mile relay

Staff report

SRI CHINMOY ONENESS-HOME PEACE RUN

The Sri Chinmoy Oneness-Home Peace Run, an international torch relay, will be coming to your area soon. Traveling the world to encourage goodwill, harmony and friendship at the local level relay runs have occurred in over 140 nations throughout North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia.

An estimated 50,000 children in over 1,000 cities and towns on the North American route are expected to participate when the Peace Run (www.peace-run.org) visits schools and youth organizations.

Runners will offer educational presentations that promote self-esteem and friendship.

The team will leave from New York City mid-April passing the Torch along the over 10,000-mile route. The continuous relay will link Mexico, Canada and the US during its 4-month journey covering over 10,000 miles before arriving back in New York mid-August.

The European relay started in Portugal in February and will end in Rome in October after running some 16,000 miles. Runners will visit the South Pacific in May.

Since the inaugural Run in 1987, more than 5-million people have participated. Endorsements have come from many world figures including Pope Francis, President Nelson Mandela, President Mikhail Gorbachev, Mother Teresa, state governors and city mayors.

Carl Lewis, 9-time Olympic Gold-medalist, said, "By carrying the Torch, you will be bridging cultural and social barriers, and all the boundaries that separate nation from nation. You will be the living proof of the ancient vision of having a beautiful and harmonious world."

The Peace Run was inspired by the visionary Sri Chinmoy as a way to give citizens a dynamic way to express their own hopes and dreams for a more harmonious world.

An athlete, philosopher, artist, musician and poet, Sri Chinmoy dedicated his life to advancing the ideals of world harmony and said, "If we have perseverance, then that is our first step towards world harmony."

ENVIRONMENTAL LEADERSHIP & KNOWLEDGE SEMINAR

ELKS stands for Environmental Leadership and Knowledge Seminar. ELKS is a program created by the Southern Ute Indian Tribe's (SUIT) Environmental Programs Division (EPD).

It is dedicated to creating a pathway to environmental awareness by educating tribal membership youth of environmental issues and processes through hands-on demonstrations and field trips.

ELKS will educate the young tribal members of the community so that they will know how important the environment is, and how the tribe's EPD is protecting the environment.

Educating the youth on the importance of the environment is crucial to the longevity and sustainability of the tribe's natural resources just as Leonard C. Burch advocated for the tribe's water rights with the Animas-La Plata Project.

"I invite anyone who believes that one man can't make a difference to take a drive southeast of Durango and witness what Leonard Burch helped create."

— Former Colorado U.S. Senator, Ben Nighthorse Campbell.

IHS GIRLS TRACK & FIELD

Valdez leads ladies in Lakewood

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Capping her senior season and decorated multi-sport high-school career with a fourth trip to the Class 2A State Track-and-Field Championships in the pole vault, Ignacio's Chrystianne Valdez made sure to go out standing as close to the podium's peak as possible.

Able to clear the bar set eight feet, two inches high on day two of the May 19-21 gathering inside Lakewood's Jeffco Stadium, Valdez ended up taking sixth place and scoring all four of the Lady Bobcats' team points as IHS ultimately shared 30th place with Rangely and Denver Christian.

Paonia easily won the title with 139 points, with Wray (76) settling for second and Cedaredge (62) third.

Also qualifying for the pole vault competition, Ignacio junior Lea Monroe was unfortunately unable to record a successful attempt, and finished behind Julesburg-Ovid Revere Sedgwick County junior Kelly Ingersoll and freshman Paige Graham, who both cleared 7'2" and tied for 16th.

First place in the specialty went to Edwards Vail Christian senior Taylor Alexander, whose 11'9" maximum authoritatively erased the Championships' record of 11'1", set by Akron's Kathy Hall in 2004 (when she blew away her 2003 meet-winning 10'0"), from the book.

Additionally, IHS junior Azala Perez finished 17th out of 18 qualifiers in the 100-meter dash with a preliminary-round time of 13.69 seconds, but wasn't far from cracking the top-15; Oak Creek Soroco junior Morgan George was 16th with her second-heat 13.56, and Iliif Caliche freshman Cristen Houghton 15th with a 13.55 achieved in the same race. Junior teammate Kayla Zink paced all with a 12.51, recorded in Heat #1 against Perez and others.

She went on to lay down a slower 12.74 in the finals, but it was still fast enough to better Ault Highland junior Isabelle Himmel's 12.986 and Calhan sophomore Britany Fuchs' 12.987.

IHS BOYS TRACK & FIELD

Gram goes big in State sprints

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

There's no better time than the State Championships to be at your best.

And Ignacio junior Bryan Gram was exactly that, as the boys' lone qualifier to the season's biggest Class 2A track-and-field assembly, held May 19-21 at Jeffco Stadium in Lakewood. Setting personal records in the events in which he was entered, Gram placed in both the 400- and 200-meter dashes to gain IHS four team points and a share – along with Calhan, Akron, Kiowa and Hotchkiss – of 32nd place.

On Day 1 Gram, like everyone else in the longer of the two sprints, ended up chasing Loveland Resurrection Christian senior Evan Anderson's preliminary-best time of 49.76 seconds, but ended up a strong fifth with a 50.86 – blowing away his seeding time of 51.24 – guaranteeing him a spot in day three's final.

Which Anderson again dominated, but with an improved 49.59 effort. Wiggins junior Shane Finegan came in second, his 49.61 slicing an impressive 1.24 seconds off his preliminary-round work. Cedaredge senior Bryce Klaseen took third in 50.52, and Gram finished seventh (earning three points in the process) in 51.68.

RCS junior Michael Stevenson trailed the Bobcat with his eighth-place 52.29, and CHS junior Brendon Klaseen's 53.54 rounded out the field.

In the 200, Gram took eighth in the day one prelims, clocking 23.25 and again bettering his seeding time (23.59) in earning the second of three last-chance spots – illustrating how competitive that was, Ault Highland junior Cole Rouse nabbed the third with his 23.34 – in the final.

But during the Saturday session, Gram slowed to a ninth-place 24.60 (still earning a team point, however) while RCS senior Cooper Ward was only one hundredth of a second slower than his heat-race 22.55 in earning first – and helping the Cougars ultimately amass 85 team points, trailing only the Cedaredge Bruins' victorious 98.

Paonia senior Jeremiah Hillman finished second in 22.79 – bettering his prelim effort by 0.19 – and Ellicott senior Kevin Vargas crossed the line third in 22.90 (0.26 off his prelim pace). Slowing by 0.43 from the Championships' opening day, RCS' Anderson ended up fifth with a 23.32.

IHS BASEBALL

JV baseball goes unbeaten

Cats close out campaign at 13-0

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Already aboard a derailed train destroying everything in its path, there was nothing the conductor could do.

"Tried to stop the bleeding!" exclaimed Trent Taylor, to assistants Drake Rhodes and Clay Miller. "But they just keep on hitting! I mean, as a coach... what do you do?"

Substitute players? Check.

Halt the practice of taking extra bases on long knocks? Check.

Try changing to a bunt-based attack, and work on small-ball tactics? Check... sort of.

Freshman Joseph Atencio apparently didn't see the sign or hear the command as he stepped in to bat after Cesar Corona led off the bottom of the fourth with a sharp single. And just as Taylor feared – if not expected, given that the May 3 game versus 3A Pagosa Springs at IHS Field was shaping up to be Ignacio's junior-varsity season finale – the rampage resumed after the Pirates, helplessly adrift on a red/green sea of GreenFields XP Blade+ synthetic turf, went scoreless in the visitors' half of the frame with the Bobcats already in control, 14 to 2.

Varsity/JV swing junior Juanito Medina then tripled in the pair, senior 'DT' Meshew then crashed a double off the left-field fence, Nick Sanchez singled him to third, and Marcus Chapman then emptied the sacks with a drive to center... and wheeled around at full speed to also score on the same play.

Helpless look to the dugout from Taylor in the third-base coach's box? Check.

Raucous cheering from players in said dugout? Check.

Starting pitcher Cole McCaw and reliever Lawrence Valdez really couldn't have dreamed of having any more run support in the contest, but six more runs – the last on an inside-the-park homer by Medina – would still cross the plate before the 25-2 destruction was done. And afterwards, a helpless Taylor couldn't outrun pursuing players poised to empty upon him the water cooler's remaining contents.

Joel Priest/Special to the Drum

"I've seen these kids grow up. I played baseball here back in the 70's, and I thought, 'You know? We can turn this around,'" a drenched Taylor said. "We've struggled the last five, six years, but I think Ignacio Baseball is back. So I'm excited."

As it turned out, the celebration commemorating an undefeated season – which started March 19 with an unplanned 18-4 devastation of 2A/1A San Juan Basin League nemesis Dolores' varsity at the IHS Invitational (after 3A Salida pulled out, having gone 1-1 on the event's first day) – was slightly premature, as the squad picked up three previously-unscheduled home games before all was officially finalized.

But the Cats couldn't be caught off-guard, and completed a 13-0 run with a 14-2, 12-2 whipping of DHS – making Ignacio 5-0 against SIBL JV opposition – on the 7th, and a 5-1 win over 3A Bayfield's JV on the 9th. The Wolverines could have patted their collective back for surrendering only five runs, too; according to results reported to maxpreps.com, IHS averaged an imposing 12.6 per game in 2016 while allowing only 3.1 per.

"Well you know, Coach [Bert] Miller's really helped us out getting started with this younger bunch of kids, and he's given us all the rein to teach these kids the sport," Taylor said, tipping his cap to the varsity skipper. "And I'm very proud of them; they've come with good attitudes and their work ethic's been phenomenal. And that makes a big difference when they work as hard as they have."

"I think it's this field that's really turned things around, to be honest with you," he continued, looking out over the revitalized facility. "This field has made it easy to take fielding we need to take. Our pitching is really coming on, and can't take a backseat to our hitting. It's just everything we've done...the kids aren't afraid to play ball anymore!"

"Good things come when good things happen like that, and that's what I'm proud of," Taylor stated. "Discipline for our community, respect for our kids, and a good, hard work ethic – that's all I really wanted; I didn't care if we won a single game! My dreams were accomplished, and the kids' dreams were too."

Bobcats denied State berth

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

No matter how impressive a second go-round with Western Slope League force Hotchkiss was – a 4-3, extra-innings loss in the 2A-District 2 semifinals on May 14, as compared to a 12-2 drubbing back in mid-March – for upstart Ignacio, it somehow wasn't enough to sway the selectors in far-off Aurora to include the Bobcats in the 16-team Class 2A State Tournament bracket.

Which was supposed to have been seeded with not only the eight district winners, but eight wild-card crews determined by the Colorado High School Activities Association's first-year RPI points system – a strength-of-schedule formula something similar in conception to the NCAA's postseason basketball methodology.

But like in 'March Madness,' in which teams undeserving of higher seeding (or seeding at all) sometimes get the gold mine, others – borrowing words from the 1982 Jerry Reed song – get the shaft. And to those teams, 'RPI' isn't an abbreviation for Rating Percentage Index; it stands for Really. Poor. Idea.

IHS has a legitimate claim to being one of those spurned squads.

"It was kind of a different year, with the system they're using," said La Jara Centauri head coach Devin Smith, whose Falcons fell 13-11 at IHS Field on April 21, but were still chosen to compete in the Class 3A State Tournament's initial Round-of-32 (as the No. 29 seed) despite a sub-par 8-10 regular-season record. "Not really happy with the way that went, you know."

After a 5-4 loss to top-ranked Paonia in the D-2 finale, HHS (then 17-2) was granted wild-card status, re-seeded No. 5 in the Round-of-16, and faced 12-seed Peyton (16-3) on Andenuccio Field at the Runyon Complex in Pueblo. Still owning the 1-seed, Paonia (then 20-1) squared off with No. 16 Sargent on Hobbs Field.

By seed numbers not yet mentioned, with records at time of selection in parentheses, also included were:

COMMUNITY GREETINGS

Natelle Thompson

I came into your life when you were ten years old. As I watched you grow I could tell there was something special about you. First, you've been very responsible. Second, when you say you're going to do something, you do it! Third, you made your family proud. Congratulations Natelle you did it! Keep on striving you'll get there I know you will.

I love you very much!

Leon Burch

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Leon Burch. I have had the pleasure of knowing Leon for the past three years and I can state with confidence that he is a motivated and responsible young man with a high degree of integrity. As such, I expect that he will be a very positive addition to the internship program.

For the past year, Leon was my student aide at Del Norte High School. In this role, he had a considerable amount of responsibilities, and he handled them effortlessly. He was always willing to help with whatever I needed. I honestly do not think that I could have made it through the year without Leon's help.

Initially, Leon's focus was to get through the transition from mid school to high school and he did not give full focus on his academics. Over the years, Leon has demonstrated tenacity and perseverance and reached his goal of graduating. I feel that Leon has developed good skills and is ready for vocational training and any opportunities that are available. I sincerely hope that you give his application favorable consideration. If you need any further information about Leon Burch, please do not hesitate to contact me.

*Sincerely,
Kim Nichols

FLY-FISHING

Southwest Florida provides recuperation and fly-fishing

By Don Oliver
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

I've been to Southwest Florida (SWF) before, so when she who must be obeyed suggested we spend the month of April there for some RR and FF I jumped at the opportunity. I knew the fly fishing part was true and not something made up to get me to travel. However, I'd forgotten some of the differences between Durango and SWF. For instance, all the cars in SWF are perpetually clean, and not one of them has a cracked windshield. The vehicles are also different. One dealership is a combination Jaguar, Maserati, Bentley, and Land Rover. All the dogs are also small; it must be so they'll fit into the small cars.

The one similarity SWF has with Durango is the number of really great places to fly fish. There is the Gulf of Mexico, canals, which are similar to irrigation ditches only with alligators and water moccasins, mangroves, and fresh water lakes and ponds.

To fly fish these different areas, several rod weights are needed. I think the Gulf is best fished with an 8 or 9-weight rod. The mangroves and canals are easily fished with a 7-weight; the ponds and lakes can be fished with a 6-weight. For lines and leaders there are numerous options. Since I rarely fish deeper than five feet I always use a floating line. There are lines designed for salt water and they work great. Leaders need to be nothing less than 10-pound test. When in doubt always go to a heavier leader. There are a multitude of flies for salt water. However, Crazy Charley's, Clousers in a variety of colors, and some poppers seem to work best. If you're going to take only one rod, make it the 8-weight.

With the four options of types of areas to fly fish next time I'm in SWF I would concentrate on one or two areas instead of trying to cover all four. I think it would be more productive.

The Gulf is limitless. From our abode the nearest land mass was the country of Mexico. Trying to figure out that much water, without a boat, was a challenge. I found walking along the beach and water line to be the best. (You can blind cast for only so long.) Once you spot a fish try and get in front of it before making a cast. Fish in the ocean can be lined like anywhere else. When walking the beach you'll see trout, snook, and ladyfish.

I really enjoyed the canals. As I said, "be aware of the alligators and snakes." There are even signs that say, "Don't feed or harass the alligators", well duh. The canals are clear so a 9-foot leader is needed. For flies I used poppers and Clousers. I caught perch that had sharp teeth and bent my 7-weight in half. I've also been told the canals around Miami are home to peacock bass.

Some of the mangroves can be wade fished, others require a boat, canoe or kayak. Snook really like to hide out in the mangroves. You need to move with stealth in the mangroves as it is easy to see fish, and if you can see them they can see you. I caught a really large snook, on a popper, that was feeding in about 12 inches of water.

Fresh water lakes and ponds are everywhere. And, many are open to the public. The lakes and ponds are home to bass, and many of them are sizable. Use whatever rod and flies you use to fish for bass around Durango. However, with the constant presence of wind, a 6 or 7-weight would be great.

It was great fun to be away from the spring snow and mud. But it's good to be home to dirty pickups with cracked windshields and big dogs in the beds. Next spring when I get to feeling really old, and tired of paying state income taxes, I think I'll head back to SWF.

7), Haxtun (15-6), Lafayette Dawson School (14-4), Limon (16-4), Greeley Day-spring Christian (13-4), Rye (16-3).

But therein lie the system's flaws, with Ignacio not the only team victimized.

In CHSAA's updated RPI rankings, released the day after district-tournament play, IHS (14-5) was on pins and needles as the on-the-bubble No. 17 with a 0.528795 figure. Granted, that alone wouldn't have been high enough to grant the Cats inclusion in a 16-team mix. But when the mathematics weren't actually the prime-determining factor as intimidated by the Association, it could have been.

Littleton Front Range Christian was the No. 16 at 0.547827 and also was not awarded a wild-card berth. Neither was No. 15 Yuma (0.551077). By comparison, Rye was a weaker 19th (0.501988) and Sargent a much weaker 26th (0.480690). Based solely on RPI, Fowler's 23rd-best 0.487158 mark would have even made the 4-13 Grizzlies a more appropriate choice than the [then] 17-2 Farmers.

Surviving into the May 28 'Final Four,' still seeking the State Championship – to be contested later that day – are Paonia (now 22-1), Limon (18-4), Dawson School (16-4) and Sedgwick County (22-1). Both Rye – the defending State Champions – and Sargent were eliminated on Day 1 (5/20) by their higher-seeded opponents, while County Line's Rivals, Swink's Lions and Rocky Ford's Meloneers were all Round-of-16 upset casualties.

Damon Toledo/SU Drum

Kruz Pardo steps up at bat against Hotchkiss High School as Tucker Ward warms up on deck.

And on neutral ground in Cortez, Ignacio's incredible one-year improvement continued with a 7-3 victory. Senior Anthony Manzanares and sophomore Kruz Pardo led the way offensively, with each going 2-for-4. Senior Austin McCaw was 2-3, and classmates Tucker Ward, Chance Hine, Joe Herrera and Andrew Martinez were each 1-3 and each also scored one run.

Throwing only 82 pitches, Ward earned a seven-inning, complete-game win on the mound for the San Juan Basin League champs, allowing only three hits and one earned run while posting a solid 7:1 strikeout-to-walk ratio against CHS (12-8) – which had reached the quarters by ousting Rangely (0-17) by an identical four-run margin.

Having faced Hotchkiss sophomore Jonathan Gonzales at season's start, IHS didn't see senior ace Cesar Gonzales in the semis, but instead got junior Eli Kirk and managed a Manzanares (7) run in the top of the first – a lead which held until Bulldogs Parker Katzdorn and Cesar Gonzales (playing shortstop) scored in the third.

HHS put across one more in the sixth, but Pardo and Ward came in for the Cats and the inning ended with the teams unexpectedly deadlocked at 3-3. Hotchkiss threatened in the seventh against an inspired Zach Weinreich, with sophomore Chase Hiatt smacking a two-out double, but

Ignacio held and the clash went into 'overtime.'

Pardo led off the Bobcats' eighth with a single but Ward (2-4), who'd doubled each of his previous two at-bats, flew out to center, and McCaw and Weinreich both went down on strikes. Knowing they might not be as fortunate should Ignacio bat again, the Dogs unfortunately capitalized.

With one out, freshman Presley Pene singled off McCaw – put on the hill after Weinreich lasted seven strong innings. Katzdorn went down swinging, but after Gonzales (2-3, R, 2 BB) drew a walk, senior Cole Carvill (1-5, 2 RBI) singled in the winning run, giving Jonathan Gonzales – who'd taken over for Kirk (ND; 5 H, 3 R, 2 ER, 2 BB, 5 K) after the starter went six – the 'W' in relief.

Manzanares went 0-3 with a walk and run in defeat, and junior Timmy Plehinger was 1-3.

McCaw (0.2 IP, 2 H, ER, BB, 2 K) took the 'L' for IHS, and Weinreich (7 IP, 5 H, 3 R, 2 ER, BB, 7 K) joined Kirk in taking a no-decision. But as fate would have it, the Bobcats – with eight more wins than in 2015 – would soon receive a ND much, much more cruel ... the worst of the sort.

FINAL SJB� STANDINGS (LEAGUE, OVERALL)

1. IGNACIO (8-1, 14-5),
2. Nucla (7-2, 10-12),
3. Dove Creek (3-6, 9-14),
4. Dolores (0-9, 0-17).

AT DISTRICTS

Though it's not wise to look past an opponent, the Bobcats had to like their chances against Cedaredge in the District 2 Tournament's opening quarterfinals, having belted the Bruins 19-9 earlier this season.

Most often following him in Miller's order was sophomore Kruz Pardo (.500, 37-74, 29 R, 28 RBI), named First Team All-SJB� Outfield along with senior Austin McCaw (.458, 27-59, 3 HR, 17 R, 27 RBI).

Pardo was Ignacio's rock in center with McCaw patrolling left, and both also saw extensive action in the pitching rotation – bolstered by workhorse senior Tucker Ward (6-0 in 9 appearances, 55 K's in 33 IP; also .536, 37-69, 30 R, 27 RBI, 11 2B), named First Team at the position with Ernst and Nucla junior Trenton Armitrout.

NHS junior Devyn Rummel and DCHS senior Case Baughman were also named First Team Outfield, while Bobcat senior Chance Hine (.390, 16-41, 6 2B, 15 R) – IHS' primary second baseman – joined Manzanares, Dove Creek senior Colin Hobbs and Nucla senior Caden Colson in receiving First Team Infield.

With the Class 2A State Championship still up for grabs this weekend, the 1A half of the SJB�'s campaign was concluded in its entirety May 19 at All-Star Park in Lakewood, with Arkansas Valley Leaguers Holly (12-6 overall) blanking North Central representatives Fleming (16-5) 5-0 for the 1A State Championship.

FHS had eliminated DCHS 4-1 in one semifinal on the 14th, denying the 'Dogs a chance to repeat as rulers, while HHS bageled NHS 10-zip in the eight-team bracket's initial quarterfinals earlier that day.

Second Team All-League status went to junior infielders Scott Gatlin (Dove Creek) and Graden Steffan (Nucla), freshman outfield-
