CULTURAL PRESERVATION

Thompson and Cimburek sign on as new dept. directors

By McKayla Lee
THE SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

The Southern Ute Cultural Center (SUCC) and the Southern Ute Museum (SUM) have recently hired new leadership. Southern Ute tribal member Shelly Thompson has taken over as the Cultural Preservation Director and Susan Cimburek as the new Museum Director.

Both parties have shared their excitement to be working alongside one another and to be sharing the facility.

Thompson has a long history of work experience with the tribe. She started working as a youth employee when she was 14 years old. She's spent time in various departments since then, but her favorite position was a Community Health Representative (CHR) and Administrative Assistant. "I look back and always feel grateful to have been able to work with the elders," Thompson reminisced. "I loved being around them especially when they would share their stories, it allowed me to really connect with them."

In addition to her work history, she has a strong education background. After graduating from Ignacio High School, she pursued an Associate's of Science degree from Pueblo Community College (PCC) majoring in Criminal Justice with an emphasis on Adult and Juvenile corrections. Moving from PCC Thompson attended Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colo. and obtained her Bachelor of Political Science degree. She then moved to Denver where she worked and attended school at the University of Denver before receiving a Master of Social Work Degree. Deciding to stick around the Denver area, she returned to school at the Sturm College of Law at the University of Denver to complete the program and now holds a Juris Doctor degree.

"I know my law degree can be put to work in this department, especially through the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA) program," stated Thompson. "Not only do I want to see the department grow; I want to help my employees grow."

The Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act currently helps Native American tribes regain ownership of cultural items that have been discovered or excavated on federal lands. The act also protects the disposition and repatriation of cultural and sacred objects. In addition to the NAGPRA team, Thompson will oversee special events, culture education, traditional events and five culture committees. Special events such as heritage dances, holiday dinners, youth camp, Bear Dance and Sun Dance will continue as normal. "I want to see more classes being held here [at SUCC] different from the ones that have been held recently," Thompson

HISTORICAL PRESERVATION

Martinez finds his niche as The Southern Ute Drum's Media Archivist

By Jeremy Wade Shockley
THE SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

Fabian Martinez signed on with The Southern Ute Drum in February of 2019 to take on the responsibilities of organizing and archiving the newspaper's decades old collection of printed newspapers, negatives and historic black and white photographs, which date back to the inception of the tribal newspaper in 1969.

Martinez has a unique understanding of the Drum's newspaper history as a tribal publication. His years of research starting with his first Drum internship, has provide him with in-depth knowledge of the newspaper archives.

"History is important. I want to protect that history so that we have it for future generations. As historians we are able to go back and construct a better idea of the past or fill in our own histories. Our tribal histories are important to us as Nuche," Martinez emphasized.

Many of the historic photographs in The Southern Ute Drum archives remain unpublished images to this day, outtakes from important events, cultural gatherings or High School athletics. Often most memorable is the vast collection of tribal members and employees in and around the offices, in the field, or simply enjoying each other's company.

Many of the oldest newspapers in the collection were published separately, as the Ignacio Chieftain, but still covered tribal news in addition to general news in and around the Southern Ute Reservation, some dating back as far as the 1920's.

Martinez came on board to help the newspaper preserve and protect these valuable histories, while making them more readily available to tribal departments and the membership. In less than a year's time, he has done just that. Organizing five decades of historic photos into acid free, dust proof folios; paving the way for digitization.

"As of right now, we still have a lot of work ahead of us as we are still organizing the negatives and contact sheets that were used to help produce the paper. It is important to protect these materials, as many of the photos, negatives, albums and newspapers were not correctly stored and many are showing signs of aging," Martinez said.

Human trafficking hits close to home

By Trennie Collins
THE SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

Forced labor, debt bondage, involuntary domestic servitude, sex trafficking and use of child soldiers are all forms of human trafficking. So, is human trafficking really what we think it is?

On Thursday, Jan. 16 the Laboratory to Combat Human Trafficking (LCHT) in partnership with Sexual Assault Services Organization (SASO) held a human trafficking training at the Southern Ute Museum presented by LCHT's Research and Training Manager, Kara Napolitano.

What is human trafficking? According to the LCHT, human trafficking is a severe form of exploitation of another person involving force, fraud or coercion for labor or commercial sex purposes.

"We do have all forms of trafficking here [in Colorado] labor trafficking and sex trafficking," explained Napolitano. "I know of six or seven cases that are currently happening right here within a 20-mile radius, so if you didn't think trafficking was happening here, now you know."

The State Department recently released a report stating that the United States was ranked among the worst countries in the world for human trafficking. Within the U.S., Colorado is ranked 16th.

According to the Secretary of State, there were 24.9 million people who are involved in human trafficking in some capacity in 2019. The U.S. State Colorado State Patrol officers attended the Human Trafficking training that was held at the Southern Ute Museum on Thursday, Jan. 16. Many tribal departments and community members showed up to learn about how to identify and prevent human trafficking here on the Southern Ute Indian Reservation.

Department also estimates that 600,000-800,000 victims are trafficked annually across international borders and of those numbers, half are under the age of 18.

In April of 2016, Governor Hickenlooper signed Colorado House Bill

HB 16-1224, Treat Trafficking of Children as Child Abuse, into law — making Colorado history and changing the way human trafficking is treated in the state of Colorado. Colorado has 17 task forces in different communities around the state who have started the anti-trafficking movement. In Colorado, human trafficking is a felony. Trafficking an adult could land you in serious trouble, and is punishable for up to 16 years in prison; trafficking a child is punishable for up to 48 years in prison.

The Colorado Human Trafficking Council, a group of leaders across various levels of government and community who work to address human trafficking in Colorado, help advocate for trafficked victims. The recommended standards set by the Colorado Human Trafficking Council are community-based victim advocates who help and play a crucial role in providing long term help for survivors. Mental/behavioral health professionals help provide clinical intervention and support, while housing providers provide safe and clean housing to those in need.

Even though the council doesn't have regulatory authority over the recommended standards they work through those to help guide them when working with human trafficking clients.

"In order to fight crime as diverse and array as human trafficking is, you need trust. You need trust between law enforcement and service providers and community members, so we know we are all on the same page," said Napolitano. "No one organization tion is going to solve the trafficking problem, it's going to take literally every type of identity in this space and more."

A huge population of Coloradoans believes that human trafficking is sex trafficking, leading to a misperception of stereotyping when it comes to trafficking in general. Reality is that yes, sex trafficking is a huge part of human trafficking, but in Colorado, there are some risk factors that may lead to being trafficked. Age, poverty, gender, inequality, unemployment, sexual abuse, health issues, mental health, police corruption and high crime are just some risk factors to take into consideration.

So, what does that mean in the name of safety? It is important to know what it means to be safe from being trafficked. Communication is key, having a phone or letting a family member know your whereabouts is an important part of being safe. Keep all important documents, an ID or passport in your possession at all times. Many traffickers hold onto their victim's identification so that they feel like they have leverage over them.

"This region also includes two sovereign nations, the Southern Utes and the Ute Mountain Utes. The data collected does not include tribal participants although it is important to understand how cultures vary; therefore, we do not assume that the vulnerabilities are similar in the sovereign communities, but we expect that some of the risks to trafficking for individuals might be the same," stated The Region 5 Colorado Project Community Profile which was conducted by LCHT.

It's important to know that traffickers can be anyone. Being aware of trafficking itself is an important step to helping your community. You are the first line of defense in human trafficking detection. Here are some common indicators of human trafficking:

- Unexplained injuries (multiple scars, broken teeth or burns).
- Evidence of prolonged infection or time since injury occurred.
- Bacterial infection and/or yeast infection or frequent STI's.
- Work-related injuries.

- Multiple or frequent pregnancies/abortions.
 - Signs of malnourishment or general poor health.
 - Tattoos or branding.
 - Evidence of sexual trauma.
- There is no sure sign of human trafficking, instead take these signs into consideration.

- Individual claims of "just visiting."
- Someone claiming to speak for, or on behalf of a victim.
- No legal documentation and not in control of their own identification documents.
- Dissociation disorders such as memory loss, lack of sense of self-identity.

"People are coming in and out of these experiences," explained Napolitano. "Trafficking is not just cut and dry and nobody is just a trafficking victim or survivor, it's not their only identity."

For more information on human trafficking visit: combathumantrafficking.org or to report human trafficking contact Colorado's Human Trafficking hotline at 1-800-455-5075 or text 720-999-9724.

CENSUS 2020 NOW HIRING 51 Jobs Available

The U.S. Constitution requires that each decade we take a count — or a census—of America's population. The 2020 Census goal is to count everyone once, only once, and in the right place. The census provides vital information for you and your community.

- It determines how many representatives each state gets in Congress.
- Communities rely on census statistics to plan for a variety of resident needs including new roads, schools, and emergency services.
- Businesses use census data to help provide more local jobs and places to shop.
- Determines federal funding for Native American tribes across the country.

Each year, the federal government distributes hundreds of billions of dollars to states and communities based on U.S. Census Bureau data. In 2020, we will introduce new technology to make it easier than ever to respond to the census. For the first time, you will be able to respond online, by phone, or by mail. We will use data that the public has already provided to cut down on household visits. And, we are building a more accurate address list and automating our field operations—all while keeping your information confidential and safe.

CENSUS 2020 presence will be live on the Southern Ute Reservation looking for interested workers to fill 51 JOBS to carry out the duties for a successful CENSUS 2020 turnout. Please apply online @ 2020census.gov/jobs or call 1-855-JOB-2020.

NUTRITION

Eat your vegetables!

By Lisa Smith, RDN
SHINING MOUNTAIN HEALTH & WELLNESS

Vegetables provide us with vitamins, minerals, fiber and nutrients that help fight disease.

We know we need to eat more of them but most of us don't. They can be fixed in a variety of ways; however, roasting vegetables is one of my personal favorites. It is a great way to get the family to eat more of them because they become sweeter as they cook.

Begin by using only one type of vegetable such as broccoli or Brussels sprouts and then venture on to multiple veggies as you get acquainted with roasting.

You can get creative and add a variety of herbs and spices. Parmesan tossed in during the last five minutes of roasting adds a lot of flavor and is a favorite among kids. Be brave. Be creative. Eat vegetables!

Veggies that go well together or alone:

- Zucchini, yellow squash, calabacitas

courtesy NY Times Cooking

squash, onions (check at 8-10 minutes as they are more tender than other veggies and will cook faster).

- Eggplant, onions, tomatoes, kalamata olives.
- Broccoli, cauliflower.
- Asparagus.
- Brussels sprouts.
- Sweet potatoes, carrots, beets (they will take longer).

Use these combos or make up your own. If some of the veggies take longer to cook, put them in first and then add the others later.

BASIC ROASTED VEGETABLES – EAT & ENJOY!

Directions:

1. Cut veggies in fairly uniform sized pieces (1-2").
2. Put in a bowl and toss with olive oil.
3. Sprinkle with sea salt and pepper and herbs if desired (try oregano, thyme, cumin or garlic).
4. Transfer to a baking sheet coated with cooking spray, spread veggies out to a single layer.
5. Bake at 350 degrees for 15-20 minutes or until tender (toss halfway through).

TRIBAL HEALTH

Overview of Southern Ute tribal member health benefits

By Erica Atencio
SOUTHERN UTE TRIBAL HEALTH DEPT.

The Southern Ute Tribal Health Department will be submitting monthly articles to the Southern Ute Drum providing important information about your Southern Ute tribal member medical, dental, vision and prescription benefits; as well as other services and resources available through the department. Below is an overall summary of your current benefits.

All enrolled Southern Ute tribal members have a medical benefit plan that covers many of your typical medical expenses. These expenses include, but are not limited to primary care visits, ER visits, and specialty clinic visits such as nephrology, cardiology or podiatry. Members do not have to see an in-network provider, and they do not have to pay a co-pay, co-insurance or deductible. The medical plan is administered by the Forrest County Potawatomi Insurance Department (FCPID), who will process all medical claims. FCPID will receive the provider's billed claim for services and ensure the rates for each service are correct and then they pay the lowest possible rate. FCPID then forwards this information to the Tribe and payment is authorized. New member benefit cards were mailed to all enrolled tribal members in September of 2019; if you did not receive a card please call the Tribal Health Department at 970-563-4742.

Prescription Coverage

All enrolled Southern Ute tribal members have prescription coverage through SilverbackRX. This benefit covers many of your doctor prescribed medications. There is no network requirement associated with this benefit. This means, members can utilize any retail pharmacy like Walgreens, Walmart or CVS. SilverbackRX process all prescription claims for members and is available to assist with any questions regarding payment of those claims. Silverback's information is on the medical benefit card mailed in September of 2019.

Dental Coverage

All enrolled Southern Ute tribal members have a dental plan through Delta Dental of Colorado. This plan has been in place since April 2014, and cards were mailed out at that time. Members have a $3,000 annual maximum for covered dental services like preventative care, dental emergencies, and routine maintenance. Members also have a $1,000 lifetime maximum for orthodontic services. Unlike medical coverage, tribal members must utilize an in-network provider in order to avoid paying any out-of-network costs. The provider must be a part of the Delta Dental network. If you are unsure if your provider is in network, this information can be found by speaking to the provider directly or by going to www.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

Bee Heard: Why do we argue with the ones we love?

Staff report
SOUTHERN UTE
BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

The Creator created us all with our own unique ways and differences. We all have different personalities, quirks and of course different triggers and vulnerabilities. And sometimes we don't share these personal things with our family members and sometimes this can cause or even fuel conflicts. The best way we can avoid some of these conflicts is to be aware of our own differences, take responsibility for them and learn to work effectively with them.

Conflicts can't be avoided sometimes and that's okay, but how can we handle it better? Here's a suggestion, maybe instead of seeing it from a "win or lose standpoint," how about seeing it from a "two people, shoulder to shoulder standpoint?" Seeing two people who see two different views looking together at the problem. There's no winner or loser.

Another way to avoid conflict is to stay away from "you" statements and the words "always" and "never." An example sentence that could cause defensiveness and conflict would be: "You never pick up after yourself." This statement is very vague and doesn't tell the other person how you feel, only what you think. Maybe a better way to use this example would be: "After you were in a rush this morning and left your food on the table, it made me stressed because I was in a rush too and I had to clean up, so the cats didn't get in your food."

The key is to practice the "X, Y, Z" statements and to calmly explain "when you did X, in situation Y, I felt Z." Understanding our past and our family is key.

Our past can also become a trigger and cause conflict as well. It's good to understand our own past, how we grew up, who we are now, what our values are and what we're willing to participate in.

Some questions to ask yourself periodically and maybe even journal them:

- How did our family or any relationship affect our growth?
- What are our spiritual beliefs and how do we practice them?
- How do they affect our daily lives and the choices we make?
- What makes us mad, laugh, cry?
- What makes us feel better when we are sad? When we're mad?
- What are we most proud of?
- What are our priorities?
- What are our strengths and weaknesses?
- How have we made it through severe stresses?
- How do we recharge our emotional batteries?

We all deserve to know what makes us happy, what makes us sad or mad, and what values we hold. When we know our own selves well, we can avoid some conflicts, but better yet, we know our own issues and how to handle them if they arise.

Sometimes we need help finding out answers to our questions or maybe we're just looking for ways to handle certain situations, reach out and talk to someone you trust or contact the Southern Ute Behavioral Health Division 970-563-4581 and talk to a licensed therapist.

We all need a little help and guidance sometimes. For more tips check out psychcentral.com

Student of the season

By McKayla Lee
THE SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

Southern Ute tribal member Sarafina Chackee has been nominated as the Southern Ute Student of the Season for the Fall of 2019. Chackee currently attends the 10th grade at Ignacio High School. Her parents are Neida Chackee and Vernon Chackee.

“Sarafina Chackee is an enthusiastic individual who balances her traditional values and duties along with being a positive student well. Her involvement in many different Tribal Youth activities and all-around positiveness makes her a great Student of the Season.

Sarafina’s quiet, yet positive personality is quite a pleasure to be around and I look forward to watching her grow into a positive role model for her Tribe,” stated Southern Ute High School Education Teacher, Damon White Thunder.

“Sarafina is a hard-working individual in school as well as in youth activities that she is involved in. In the short time that I have had the opportunity to work with Sarafina, I have seen major growth in her confidence, seen her open up in public settings, seen interactions with peers and adults contain not only laughter and insight, but with all parties walking away with knowledge that was not there before.

I look forward to seeing more growth for Sarafina and those around her, as her attitude is an infectious one. I also look forward to the person that she will become and all the positive motivations she has to sway the future for this community,” expressed Sunshine Cloud Smith Youth Advisory Council and Youth Employment Program Coordinator, Dustin Weaver.

Power of concentration

Staff report
SOUTHERN UTE INDIAN
MONTESSORI ACADEMY

The dictionary defines concentration as the action or power of focusing one’s attention or mental effort. In this day and age, concentration is not often seen or experienced. In the Montessori approach, the development of concentration is already front and center in every aspect. The value of concentration for optimal human development is the foundation of a student’s work.

Maria Montessori recognized, as early as 1906, the ability to concentrate is essential for everything. Although experience molds the brain, it molds only our attending brains. Physical changes in the brain depend on an attentive mental state. Paying attention matters so that the structure of the brain can grow and remake itself. Building attention develops into concentration.

Montessori set out to develop materials that would not only attract the child’s attention but help him to build organization in his mind. In our classrooms at SUIMA, the Sensorial Materials help children to further develop their senses, which help them with their concentration. Outside of school, parents can support this amazing development by being aware of how sensitive young children are to their surroundings.

With concentration, not only are children more successful in their tasks and development, they also become more aware of, and empathic to those around them. Concentration: we could all use a little bit of it each day.

SWRY celebrates first year!

The dance floor was jumpin', as dancers did the 'Cupid Shuffle,' following a dinner provided by REZ-Girls Catering.

Jerrika Rarick has the honor of cutting the one-year celebration cake.

SWRY members: Precious Collins, Trennie Collins and Bobbie Rosa take turns in welcoming everyone to the SWRY one-year celebration.

Celebrating the first year is an accomplishment for any organization, and celebrating with food, music and dancing makes for an evening filled with fun and recognition. Southwest Rainbow Youth (SWRY) celebrated turning one-year-old as an organization, supporting the LGBTQ+ community. SWRY brought together various organizations to help celebrate the milestone, Friday, Jan. 24 in the Southern Ute Multi-Purpose Facility. Music was provided by DJ Robert Ortiz of REZ-olution Radio Hour (KSUT Tribal Radio 91.3 FM) and the dinner was provided by the REZ-Girls Catering of Ignacio.

LGBTQ+ SUPPORT GROUP & PARENTS TOO! 18+

HOSTED BY:
SOUTHWEST RAINBOW YOUTH

- LGBTQ+ support can help someone dealing with issues anywhere along a continuum - from the point where they are questioning their sexuality through dealing with the challenges of possibly coming out at work or struggling with gay relationship issues.
- Support groups for LGBTQ+ people often do this through peer support. This means that support groups are led by other LGBTQ+ people and not necessarily professionals.

This allows LGBTQ+ people to support each other through life's challenges.

BGC staff retreat

The Boys & Girls Club of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe had their annual retreat at the Double Tree Hotel in Durango on Saturday, Jan. 25.

BGC Director of Development, DOD, Cortney Yarholar from the BGCA Native Service Unit attended and provided assistance with the BGC Board as they updated the Club's Strategic Plan.

of the physical newspapers helped identify gaps in the collection, while also benefiting in organization – as well as protection from harmful UVs and other environmental elements such as dust. “To me personally, it was a big step to finish the physical newspaper inventory,” Martinez stated. “We were able to see what we have, don’t have, and how we can fill in those holes by reaching out to the tribal membership for newspapers.”

“We are planning out the digitizing process, which will help ensure that these materials are kept onward into the digital age. But there is still more organization with the physical materials that needs to happen before we can attempt digitizing newspapers and photos,” Martinez emphasized.

The inventory process is evolving as we better understand what we have, he explained. The photos were a big step forward. “This process has taken a lot longer than we expected; there is still so much more that we need to do. As long as we take special care of protecting the physical material, the longer they will last for future generations of Southern Ute tribal members to see their own history.”

Martinez position is made possible through the Tribe’s TEAMS program, which allows him to work in the department on a six-month basis. His second term as the Drum Media Archivist was renewed in October of last year. His ability to research and deliver photos and articles to the membership continuously proves to be a vital asset to the newspaper.

Martinez graduated from Ignacio High School in the class of 2014, he then went on to complete his Bachelors’ in General History at Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colo.

During his tenure at FLC, Martinez worked at The Southern Ute Drum as an intern. The internship was provided through the Tribe’s Higher Education department. “The internship was tailored to be specific to my interest in history and writing. Working in the newspaper archives, researching and publishing the Many Moons,” Martinez said. Many Moons is a feature of the newspaper that references historical photos from past decades, corresponding to similar publications dates from 10, 20, and even 40 years ago.

“Newspapers are very historical, [they were vital] in getting national news out to the American West – especially in rural areas,” Martinez said. Overtime they evolved to encompass the needs of their readers, he explained. Informal writing evolved into formal writing and the news coverage that we know today.

A passion for history, especially his own Southern Ute history, and a sense of purpose has made Fabian Martinez the ideal candidate for this important undertaking. He is tasked with safeguarding a chapter of this Tribe’s history by delving into the newspaper archives and ensuring that the images and stories from decades past are around for years to come.

Dept. of Education • P.O. Box 737 • Ignacio, CO 81137
Phone: 970-563-0253, Fax: 970-563-3695

The Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy (SUIMA) is looking for parents and community members to sit on their Parent Advisory Group (PAG). The purpose of the SUIMA Parent Advisory Group is to collaborate with the Tribe’s Director of Education, SUIMA Principal and Tribal Council in developing and implementing the most effective program that is responsive to the cultural and academic needs of the SUIMA students while supporting the mission and vision of the school.

MISSION STATEMENT: The Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy will provide a strong educational foundation to preserve and share the Southern Ute Indian culture within a Montessori environment.

VISION STATEMENT: To provide an environment that creates future tribal and world leaders who appreciate and support their culture, family, and lifelong learning. The Parent Advisory Group receives input from parents, community members, and others as to the Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy and its educational programs.

In addition, the PAG may focus on community projects, encourage and support volunteer activities at SUIMA, and plan family events for the school. Members of the Parent Advisory Group serve as volunteers without compensation. If you are interested in serving on the Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy’s Parent Advisory Group, please call 970-563-0253 for more information. Come be part of something purposeful and driven.

Ranching with Predators on the Landscape

Free Workshops for Livestock Producers in Colorado,
February 2020

The return of predators on working lands is just one of the many expanding challenges ranchers face in today's world. As such, there exists a greater need for understanding, resources, and support for the stewards of Colorado's wild-working landscapes.

These workshops are designed to provide insight from first-hand experience, discuss viable solutions, and offer an opportunity to have open, respectful, and sincere conversation around the topic of ranching with wolves and other predators.

Locations	Date	Time
Ignacio, SunUte Community Center, Capote Rm.	February 8	9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Montrose, Holiday Inn and Suites, 1391 S. Townsend Ave.	February 10	9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Rifle, Hampton Inn & Suites, 715 Megan Ave.	February 11	9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Walden, Antler's Inn, N. 460 Main St.	February 13	9:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Presenters:

~ Joe Engelhart, ranch manager and livestock producer, Alberta, Canada
~ Hilary Anderson, livestock producer, Anderson Ranch, Montana
~ Carter Niemeyer, former Wildlife Services trapper; wildlife biologist

The speakers have a combined 70 years of direct experience with predator- livestock interactions, agriculture, and livestock operations.

Workshop Topics:

- Management options and tangible strategies to reduce predator-livestock conflict
- Increasing ranch resilience and sustainability for future generations
- Understanding gray wolf and other predator behavior and ecology
- Identifying different types of predator damage
- Opportunity for open discussion with:
 - livestock producers who have ranches with wolves and other predators
 - wildlife biologists who have experience working with wolves and other predators in livestock country

Refreshments and hearty snacks will be provided throughout the day.

Workshops are a collaborative effort between Spruce Ranching Cooperative, Anderson Ranch, Working Circle, and Defenders of Wildlife.

Potential Firewood Shortage

This public service announcement (PSA) is to inform the Southern Ute Tribal membership, that utilize the Forestry Fuels Yard, of a potential firewood shortage.

This current situation is a result of the heavy winter of 2018/2019 that brought deep snow to the reservation and prevented our program from wood cutting, an increase in demand and utilization of the firewood program, and equipment failures throughout the year.

Firewood deliveries or pickups may be affected through April 2020. We encourage the membership to only order firewood when needed (no stockpiling) and to use firewood conservatively to supplement other heating sources in their residence.

By doing so, we hope to avoid a decrease in monthly allowances of firewood or a complete shortfall. We will keep the membership informed with future PSAs as the firewood season progresses.

Durango Nature Studies partners with SUIMA for adventures in science

With stunning vistas on all sides, the SUIMA students finish their wilderness adventures at the Rapp Corral.

Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy students, guides and parents spent the day snowshoeing at Haviland Lake, Thursday, Jan. 23. The program, led by Durango Nature Studies, focused on outdoor education and science lessons for the young participants. Program Director Kiley Smith worked alongside volunteers to ensure that the students had a science filled adventure. One group of older students and one group of younger each completed unique challenges and activities in the forest. SUIMA guides and a number of parents donned snowshoes for the fieldtrip as well. The program serves around 600 students in the Four Corners region, this is the second year that the Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy made the trip from Ignacio. The trekkers finish with an outdoor picnic at the Rapp Corral.

Kennith Hayes explains his project to the Durango Nature Studies educators and guides. The project involved building a small shelter where a squirrel might withstand the winter elements, then testing the temperature to see how well they did.

Sibrya Larry was one of the young trekkers who volunteered to take thermometer readings on a ridgeline to determine if north or south facing slopes had different temperatures at the same time of day.

STARWHEELS

Horoscopes by “The Star Lady”

♈ AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 – Feb. 18)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY AQUARIUS! While the NEW YEAR is young you still have ample time to plan fresh AQUARIAN ventures. Move cautiously on the 13th and 14th when the MOON creeps into the emotional sign of SCORPIO. Words and deeds will carry more weight and influence. Your intentions to help others are always sincere. Before you act, be sure that help is wanted. Currently your planetary ruler URANUS is transiting through the sign of TAURUS, the king of comfort. You might feel inclined to add some cushy items to your home décor.

♊ PISCES (Feb. 19 – March 20)

Tiny MERCURY zips into your sign on the 3rd and awakens your senses with inventive ideas, thoughts, plans, and creativity. It might be fun to dream up imaginative Valentine gifts, or activities to share with those who mean the most to you. Red heart shaped boxes of candy are not the only options. The NEW MOON in your sign on the 23rd gently invites the start of a cycle that may be more to your liking PISCES. Beneficial days include the 5th, 6th, 13, 14th, 23rd, and 24th. Express your feelings with a little humor.

♈ ARIES (March 21 – April 20)

The celestial influences in this month's forecast are large and in charge. JUPITER, SATURN, and PLUTO have authority over your career, social status, and reputation. Thanks to your diligence and hard work some of you have gained more self-esteem. That's not all ARIES. VENUS enters your sign on the 7th and might also give your income a boost. Love and happiness may take priority over other less important matters. Be your own best friend and surround yourself with comfort and contentment.

♉ TAURUS (April 21 – May 20)

Lovely Luna graces your sign with an extra dose of determination on the 1st and 2nd. Boot hesitation out the door and get a head start on your intentions for the first couple of weeks. MERCURY will be backing into its sleep mode on the 16th. This little planet has a reputation for creating delays. Just keep on moving forward TAURUS. You might be surprised at how much you CAN accomplish. There's a strong ally on your side. It's called patience. No need to let any little things become large irksome things.

♊ GEMINI (May 21 – June 21)

FEBRUARY begins on a high note when the MOON rolls into your sign. The 3rd and 4th are favorable days to socialize and meet people. With the SUN in AQUARIUS until the 17th happy surprises might come your way and brighten up the month. New people breeze into town. They may offer you an opportunity to add new friends to your social circle. You have a special power of attraction GEMINI. Some of the your most promising days include the 7th, 8th, 11th, and 12th. HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY.

♋ CANCER (June 22 – July 22)

On the 1st and 2nd the MOON in TAURUS launches an active series of events regarding your hopes and wishes. Soon after that the MOON enters your sign on the 5th and 6th. It may help to steer you towards your desired objectives. But your ruler is restless, it rolls into the sign of VIRGO on the 9th and 10th. Practical conversation's and sensible solutions to daily matters are favored. Later on the 22nd, 23rd, and 24th, the MOON will be swimming through the mystical, magical, waters of PISCES. Use your intuition.

♌ LEO (July 23 – Aug. 22)

Rise up and roar Lions! The FULL MOON is in YOUR sign on the 8th and it magnifies your personal power. Before you go overboard exerting all that energy, there's more to this story. Sitting exactly opposite all this glorious intensity is the mighty SUN. Look for ways to communicate peacefully with spouses, and others who are close to you. A defiant stance gets you nowhere and solves nothing. VENUS glides into the sign of ARIES on the 7th and helps to calm tempers, and encourage pleasant conversations.

♍ VIRGO (Aug. 23 – Sept. 23)

One of the main functions in your life is to be helpful to others, and to work. This is who you are VIRGO. FEBRUARY will prove to be no exception to that agenda. So here's the deal. MARS will zip into the sign of CAPRICORN on the 16th and add some extra fuel to your rule. For a change it powers up the playful side of your personality. You know what's been said about ALL WORK and NO PLAY. The planets have given you a 50/50 pass. It represents equal work, and equal play. Happy Valentine's Day!

♎ LIBRA (Sept. 24 – Oct. 23)

This FEBRUARY the planets endow you with some beneficial perks. For starters the SUN is in airy AQUARIUS on the 3rd, the MOON is in chatty GEMINI, and VENUS your ruling planet connects with SATURN. All these elements are gifts from the Solar System. They may give you the opportunity to do something you enjoy. The MOON is in your sign on the 12th and 13th just in time to plan a surprise for your favorite VALENTINE. Finishing an unfinished domestic project might be a useful gift.

♏ SCORPIO (Oct. 24 – Nov. 22)

FEBRUARY may not be your favorite month SCORPIO but there are some redeeming elements in this month. MARS charges into CAPRICORN'S domain and injects a sudden flurry of activity into your daily routine. Boredom is banished, and the pace picks up. Until the SUN leaves the sign of AQUARIUS on the 18th, it's best to maintain an agreeable attitude when dealing with family members. Be patient, and willing to meet them half way. Your patience might be tested on the 27th and the 28th.

♐ SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 – Dec. 21)

MARS is poised to leave your sign on the 16th. Until then your competitive nature is still in charge. Make the most of it SAGITTARIUS. Once MARS enters the more stable and practical sign of CAPRICORN your attention may be diverted to other matters. By the 18th the SUN moves into the watery realm of PISCES, and puts the focus on domestic and family affairs. It's best to avoid creating problems. Instead opt for more compassionate solutions. You've outgrown some of your old techniques.

♑ CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 – Jan. 20)

Currently CAPRICORN is the busiest sign in the ZODIAC with JUPITER, SATURN, and PLUTO all. There for a visit. It's about to get even busier when MARS invades on the 16th. This bunch will hang together all through the month. Finances are in your favor. The month is all yours. After the 18th more serious thoughts may fade when the mighty SUN rolls into dreamy PISCES. You might feel inclined to go out and capture a magical dream of your own. Maintain a clear and direct vision about it.

son expressed. Future classes may include cradle board construction, breast plate making, shawl work as well as beading demonstrations.

“I love working here, I’ve been going a hundred miles an hour trying to get staff input and making plans so my department can shine,” Thompson stated. “We are busy, but we are always open to new ideas and want to see the membership in our offices.”

The Culture Department is located on the second floor of the Southern Ute Museum building and it is one of Thompson’s goals to make the department more involved in the community and to ensure that there is always a presence of culture.

“Our language and culture are what makes us Ute,” Thompson shared. “We want to bring people back together, to themselves, and to the culture.”

Susan Cimburek – the Tribe’s new Museum Director, has always had a love of the Southwest. She grew up in the Denver area and has spent the past 30 years in Washington D.C. raising her family. Moving back to the Southwest last year she immediately was drawn to the culture and education of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe.

After years of studying and working in the busy city, Cimburek shared that returning to the mountainous area has been something she’s thrilled about. She currently holds two Master’s degrees; one that is being put to use in her new position is the American and New England Studies degree that she obtained from the University of Maine with a concentration in Museum Studies. With this level of education, it was no wonder that she ended up at the Smithsonian National Museum of American History where she worked behind the scenes in the archives and records department. She also spent many years as a High School social studies teacher where her passion for history, literature and education was shared with her students.

“I’m looking forward to sharing this space and working with the membership here,” Cimburek stated. “The building is beautiful and is really state-of-the-art, not only the exhibits, but the facility behind them as well.”

The museum has always had a mission that “strives to ensure the survival of Southern Ute people through meaningful education, cultural, historic and current event exhibits, and to provide a unique museum experience for indigenous and non-indigenous visitors.” The building is not only a resource for Southwest culture, but it is unique to the regional. The building was designed to incorporate the landscape to represent a connection to the land and it utilizes cultural symbolism throughout the building to showcase the beauty of the Ute people.

“There’s space in here for everyone, the community as well as departments are always welcome to host educational events,” Cimburek encouraged. “We want to host events that help people learn about history, art and heritage.”

The museum currently has eight employees, many of which are temporary workers through the TEAM and TERO programs. “Right now my priorities are to become fully staffed again and to have our new exhibits open to the public by Memorial Day,” Cimburek expressed. “We want young people to get in here too; all Youth Employment workers, students looking for internships and even school collaborations can accomplish this.”

As the museum transitions, Cimburek stated that she truly appreciates the warm welcome to the community and for the support from tribal departments that she has met with already. “I am here to support and create a pipeline to replace myself, I recognize the importance of having a tribal member in my position one day – until then I will stay committed to honoring and protecting the Southern Ute history and culture.”

The museum is open daily from 10am to 5pm and is located at 503 Ouray Drive in Ignacio, Colo. Everyone is welcomed to view the self-guided gallery spaces and visit with the museum staff. Admission is free of charge.

BOBCATS BOYS BASKETBALL

Bobcats survive scares from Demons, Miners

Ignacio boys equal last season's win count

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Seeking to witness a, to borrow the baseball term, 'complete-game' effort from his Bobcats, head coach Chris Valdez may have come up short during the team's Jan. 24-25 weekend homestand.

But in seeking to witness his squad not only defeat an improved Ridgway crew as well as exact revenge upon Telluride – the team which ultimately ended Ignacio's 2018-19 season – the boss couldn't have been more pleased, as IHS matched last winter's win total by holding off the Demons 62-51, then rallying past the Miners 67-47.

"You know what? I'm still proud of the kids," he stated, following the victory over RHS. "Doesn't matter how many points you win by, as long as you win! And it's better to have games like this right now, so that down the stretch we'll have some experience with close games."

"We've got to build a lead, keep a lead, build a lead, keep a lead, and don't let them come back on us!" he added. "That's going to be our focus the rest of the year and hopefully it'll help us at the end."

Able to storm out to a 21-4 lead on Ridgway during the opening eight minutes, Ignacio's lead remained 17 points, 50-33, entering the fourth quarter before the Demons battled back to as close as 54-49 within the final two minutes. But after a Robert Beserra three-point shot, RHS junior Jamling Sherpa was whistled for an intentional foul – allowing Bobcat junior Brady McCaw to knock down two crucial free throws with 1:25 remaining.

Classmate Triston Thompson (17 points) then followed with two more clutch charity chucks and only 52.5 seconds left, re-increasing IHS' advantage up to 58-49. McCaw (14 points) would foul out with 46.6 ticks to go, allowing Beserra to drain two FTs and bring the guests back to 58-51, but combined 4-of-4 foul-line accuracy by Bobcat senior Keegan Schurman and sophomore Gabe Tucson (14 points) down the stretch clinched an 11-point win.

A long-range specialist if the 2A/1A San Juan Basin League ever saw one, Sherpa sank four threes after halftime (the 'Cats totaled only five overall) and finished with a Demon-leading 13 points, while Beserra and fellow senior Kaden Forrest each booked 12. Before fouling out with 20.1 seconds left, senior Blake Rutherford also reached double figures with his ten points.

"If we play four quarters of basketball, we've got a different ballgame," beamed RHS skipper Tony Erickson.

"Credit to Ignacio for what they did to take us out of those sets early; we've got to come ready to play no matter who we play," he continued. "We're one of the smaller 2A schools, so we're constantly 'swinging up' against these larger schools that have a lot more students. But take nothing away from Ignacio and what they did."

Also 'swinging up' or 'punching above their weight,' Telluride entered IHS Gymnasium the following afternoon and surprisingly managed to pick up almost where Ridgway had left off. After falling well behind early, the Demons had played the 'Cats evenly during the second and third quarters – by scores of 14-14 and 15-15, respectively – before winning the final frame 18-12; THS started on a 7-0 run and would hold a 13-12 advantage after one quarter.

BOBCATS GIRLS BASKETBALL

Lady 'Cats crush two more crews at home

IHS rocks Ridgway, traumatizes Telluride

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Denied a game three days before when injury-plagued 2A/1A San Juan Basin League foe Mancos, elected to forfeit due to health concerns, Ignacio's girls then began preparations for Ridgway's Jan. 24 visit.

But with IHS' auxiliary gymnasium unexpectedly flooding, the Lady Bobcats took the main gym's court against the Lady Demons having had no practice at all the evening before, and just a Wednesday morning conditioning/shoot-around session as a foundation for their performance.

Fortunately, that proved to be enough.

Despite RHS' gutsy first-quarter effort to stay within six points (14-8) through eight minutes, a Charlize Valdez-led 16-1 second-stanza explosion gave IHS – which kept the visitors scoreless for the first 6:20 of that quarter – all the energy the squad needed to coast to a 49-20 victory.

"Sometimes my running just kicks in and I've got to go!" said the cross-country/track veteran Valdez, after logging a game-high 13 points as one of ten different Lady 'Cats scoring in the rout.

"We were definitely ready to go out today...excited to play," she continued, alluding to the unplanned, undisputed win over MHS. "It is a little bummer that we don't have that 'competition' in our league, but we go out and play our hardest every single time."

"We certainly did come out, just ... flat," admitted head coach Justa Whitt. "And that's not normal, to at least have a run-through the day before and get some shots up, you know? We never did get to go over stuff that I wanted to go over, so I think that probably affected us."

Before appearing to re-injure a left knee with only 0:08.2 remaining in the contest, senior post Anza Connaughton managed to book a RHS-best nine points. Senior Ashley Medina chipped in five for fiery skipper Nate Firkins, and freshman Kaitlyn Winkelmann contributed three.

Senior Makayla Howell joined Valdez in double figures with her 11 points. Junior regular Ebonee Gomez scored six points and sophomore Monika Lucero came off the bench to score five – helping IHS' reserves, including junior Jayden Brunson (4 points) and seniors Bella Pena (2) and Elizabeth Valdez (2), outscore Ridgway's 14 to 2.

"We just have to try to keep improving on something as we move through these games," Whitt said. "Today wasn't the best show of that, but we'll look for tomorrow to make it better."

And as it came to pass the following afternoon, the Lady 'Cats appeared back

BOBCATS WRESTLING

IHS grapplers bring back 16th from Paonia

Herrera places fourth amongst heavyweights

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Minus regulars Dante Sandman (132 pounds) and Jeremy Roderick (220), the Ignacio High wrestling team traveled north to Paonia for that school's 33rd Annual Screaming Eagle Invitational on Saturday, Jan. 25, and still managed – with only four grapplers available – to almost crack the final standings' top 15.

Led by senior heavyweight Randy Herrera, the Bobcats amassed 44 points and finished 16th out of 23 scoring teams in the final standings. Topping the table with 236 points was Cedaredge, at the time No. 3 in Class 2A in On The Mat's rankings, with Walsenburg-based John Mall (198.5) and PHS (189.5) – Nos. 6 and 4, respectively – the Bruins' closest competitors.

Herrera made short work of his first two foes, pinning 3A New Castle Coal Ridge sophomore Rafael Sanchez in only 1:12 and PHS freshman Malachi Deck in 2:17. Facing No. 9 Hotchkiss' Christian Matus in the semis, the big 'Cat finally met an equal; Matus, a junior, won by pin 59 seconds into the second two-minute period.

Still alive on the backside of the bracket, Herrera (8-6) next stood in against 2A

Rangely sophomore Byron MacKay and pulled out a tense 3-1 overtime win to advance to the third-place test. Unfortunately, his run ended there; 3A Parachute Grand Valley's Hayden Grice survived the regulation six minutes and owned a 6-1 lead when time expired.

At 126 pounds, freshman Keaton McCoy (17-10) placed fifth, beating JMHS junior Zander Ross after a 6-3 loss to 2A Walden North Park senior Destry Schmidt in the consolation-bracket semifinals. For the tournament, McCoy went 3-2 and notched two pins.

Down a weight class from an earlier norm of 138 pounds, sophomore Isaac Welker competed at 132 but went 0-2, losing to Paonia's Reagan Todd and 2A Oak Creek Soroco's Gavyn Salberg.

Following a first-round 'bye,' 152-pounder Tyler

Barnes went on to post a second-period pin of 2A San Juan Basin League rival Gage Owen of Norwood, then in the quarterfinals stuck another SJBL'er, Mancos' Colt Fury, in the first. PHS senior Zeb Etter, however, then got in the way and prevailed by pin in only 39 ticks, leaving the Bobcat sophomore to battle for a best-possible third-place result.

HHS' Traycer Hall then pinned Barnes 1:39 into the first period, but Barnes (13-11) managed to salvage fifth place over John Mall's Anthony Aldretti.

Up next, the 'Cats will host their annual Butch Melton Memorial Invitational on Saturday, Feb. 1, then also host the SJBL Championships on Feb. 6. Results from IHS' rescheduled 1/28 league dual at MHS were unavailable at press time Monday, Jan. 27.

TRIBAL OBITUARIES

NARANJO – Dixie Lou Naranjo passed away Monday, December 16, 2019, in Durango, surrounded by family. She was 72 years old.

Dixie was born December 9, 1947, to Jack and Annetta Frost in Ignacio, Colorado. She grew up in Bayfield and attended Bayfield Schools. Dixie has held the position of the Southern Ute Rodeo Queen, and was an avid softball and basketball player. She married Eugene Naranjo on Feb. 9, 1966.

Dixie was an educator and librarian for Bayfield Schools and the Southern Ute Education Department. She served her community on the Multi-Purpose Committee, The Royalty Committee, JOM Committee, and supported the traditional ways of her Southern Ute culture, attending ceremonies, beading and crafting unique dresses and traditional clothing. She was known to encourage youth and family to pursue higher education and training. She was her families, grandchildren and great-grandchildren's biggest fan at their events and sports.

She is survived by her children: Michael (Tina) Naranjo, Mikki Naranjo, and Brandi (Manford) Raines; grandchildren: Dawnnet, Nicholis, Mandy and Derrick Naranjo, Hagen Sanchez, Seth, Kai and Alexandria Roubideaux, Joey Mestas, and Tauri and Zachary Raines; 7 great-grandchildren; and siblings: Clement, Ray (Janet), Byron (Etta), Darlene, Dona and Debra Frost.

She is preceded in death by her husband, Eugene; siblings: Ronald and Wade Frost and Dorothy Naranjo.

COMMUNITY GREETINGS

Ute Crossing Grill is excited to welcome our new Head Chef, Cesar Corona.

He is a member of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe. Cesar began his passion for cooking at The Rose Café in Ignacio, Colo. and Wingers restaurant in Vernal, Utah.

We are very excited to have a new perspective and input on Native Inspired Food. Cesar shares our passion and our mission for Native Cuisine and is excited to evolve the Ute culture through food by preparing and incorporating Ute Bison Meat, along with fresh vegetable such as zucchini and corn.

He would like to give a shout out to his family back home, and to his companion and his children. He wishes to honor his Grandfather above who is looking down on him and giving him encouragement. His motto is a "Clean happy environment and great tasting food." Welcome to the Team!

In July, Corona created a signature menu item — The Blu Electric Ute Bison Buffalo Burger. Stop by the Ute Crossing Grill and taste it for yourself!

Mique! Hello everyone.

My name is Elania Romero and I am an enrolled member of the Southern Ute Tribe. My parents are Luana Herrera and Anthony Romero. My children are Cesar Corona, Jawadin Corona and Jesus Olvera. My grandchildren are Redtail Jay and Honey Sue Thompson. My late grandparents are Bennett and LaVara Thompson.

I grew up in Ignacio Colorado working for the Southern Ute Indian Tribe for 15 years and one year for The Rose Café until I moved to Vernal, Utah. I am excited and thankful for this opportunity and will continue to work hard for the Ute Crossing Grill.

Thank you Elania!
Stop by and say hello.

homesite or agriculture assignment?

45-Day Notices of Availability

Under Section 29-2-105 of the Land Assignment Code, public notice is being given that the Southern Ute Indian Tribe's Department of Natural Resources is accepting applications from Southern Ute Tribal Members eligible for a tribal-land assignment. Please review each posting carefully to determine specific eligibility requirements. Visit the following website to view the currently available assignments.
<https://www.southernute-nsn.gov/natural-resources/lands/assignments/currently-available-assignments/>
If you do not have access to a computer, the postings are available at the Department of Natural Resources and will also be posted around the Tribal Campus, the USPS Office, and Tribal Housing.

ATTENTION SOUTHERN UTE TRIBAL MEMBERS 45-DAY NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY

Under Section 29-2-105 of the Land Assignment Code, public notice is being given that the Southern Ute Indian Tribe's Department of Natural Resources is accepting applications from Southern Ute tribal members eligible for a tribal-land homesite assignment. There are 3 available lots in Cedar Point Sub.

Eligibility Requirements: Tribal members who 1) are pre approved for a loan through Tribal Credit or other financial institutions; 2) are eligible under the Land Assignment Code; and 3) submit an application with a homesite development plan and loan pre-approval letter. Tribal Council will assign these homesites on a "first pre-approved process". The applicant who first meets the three eligibility requirements will get the first choice on the available homesites.

Selection Process: Tribal Council will assign these lots to applicants on a "first pre-approved" process. Applicants who meet the above eligibility requirements get the first choice on the available lots. The sooner you complete and submit all the necessary paperwork to be pre-approved for a home mortgage, the better opportunity you have to get the parcel of your choice.

Contact the Southern Ute Indian Tribe's Housing Department to initiate the process at 970-563-4710. Submit all comments or objections in person or by mail to the Lands Division at P.O. Box 737, Ignacio, CO 81137. All comments or objections must include your name and a date. If you have any questions call the Lands Division at 970-563-0126. For financing assistance, contact the Southern Ute Tribal Credit Division at 970-563-2458 or any independent financial institution. The Housing or Lands Division staff are available by appointment to show applicants the available lots.

stanza by six points, however, Ignacio (10-1, 6-0 SJBL; 10-10 overall last winter) regained a 29-24 lead entering intermission, then expanded it to a momentum-shifting dozen points by the end of the third.

Individual point totals had yet to be finalized and reported by the Drum's deadline Monday evening, Jan. 27, with the Miners (4-8, 2-2) set to visit RHS (5-7, 2-4 SJBL after a 65-37 loss at Mancos Saturday afternoon, 1/25) the next night.

“Our defense ... we’re giving up points to their best players, and those ... we should be focusing on. So from here on out we’re going to work on stopping people’s best players, stopping screen-and-rolls and things like that,” said Valdez.

“You know, it’s becoming second nature to us that we get a big lead, and then give it up. And that’s not something we want to be proud of,” he noted. “We’ve got to make some changes defensively – it has nothing to do with offense; we can score every now and then!”

After a bit of a break, the ‘Cats – bumped from seventh back up to fifth in the CHSAANow.com Class 2A rankings – will welcome 4A Durango on Tuesday, Feb. 4.

LADY ‘CATS CRUSH TWO MORE • FROM PAGE 12

within operational specifications and remained unbeaten against all SJBL opposition by destroying Telluride 77-9.

Blasting out to a reported 19-0 lead during the first quarter, Ignacio (7-5, 6-0 SJBL) inflated that advantage to 21-2 at quarter’s end, 40-6 at halftime, and owned the Lady Miners (4-6, 3-1) 58-6 prior to the mercy rule-quickenened fourth.

Individual point totals had yet to be finalized and reported by the Drum’s deadline, Monday afternoon, Jan. 27, with THS set to visit RHS (4-5, 4-2 SJBL after Mancos forfeited the sides’ 1/25 meeting) the next evening.

“We have several different plays that we’re trying to run, and we just need to make that really sharp. And working on our press defense; we’ve still got to make that get better too,” said Whitt. “We know it’s going to be a struggle ... playing like we’re playing a Del Norte or an Alamosa, when we’re playing these kinds of teams.”

Another of ‘those’ likely awaits IHS Saturday morning, Feb. 1, as Nucla visits town after traveling to Dolores – with a roster bolstered by an influx of disbanded local rival Norwood’s players, the Lady Mustangs entered that contest standing 3-10 overall, 2-3 SJBL – the preceding evening. Action is set to begin at 11 a.m.

“I think we just want to go out and execute everything perfectly,” said Valdez. “Perfect everything and get ready for the end of the [regular] season.”
