Naanaasíchí Beadwork by Elisia

McKayla Lee THE SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

Elisia Cruz is a 17-year-old student, athlete, and most recently - entrepreneur. What originally began as a hobby to keep herself busy during the COVID-19 Pandemic has now turned into her small business 'Naanaasíchí Beadwork by Elisia.' Cruz started this business in 2020 during quarantine.

"So actually, it was quarantine, that made me want to start beading because I was bored and stuck at home," Cruz said. "And I felt like I had gone through all the hobbies, like painting, baking, you know, makeup and stuff—beading was the only thing that I stuck with."

Cruz had spent time watching her mother, Daisy Bluestar bead and naturally picked up the craft. Bluestar was the first person to post about her daughter's beadwork on Facebook, where her post gained the attention of dozens who wanted to purchase and support Cruz.

Cruz is entering her senior year at Ignacio High School and is going to play

Now-senior Alannah Gomez's recollection of last year's Boggy Draw Bear Chase, particularly the atmospheric conditions in which it was held, certainly wasn't unique amongst her fellow competitors.

"The heat last year ... was so unbearable," she said Friday evening, Aug. 20, following the Ignacio Lady Bobcats' return to the Dolores-hosted, season-opening event's third incarnation. "It was just dry and ... bad last year. On the uphills it was kind of challenging, and ... sometimes (one was) in the heat so it was kind of a killer."

But with race-time temperatures barely touching 70 degrees Fahrenheit - or roughly 20 fewer than when the starter's pistol cracked amidst the forestland in 2020 - despite prevalent sunshine, and with an infrequent, yet pleasant breeze wafting through every now and then, entrants appeared far more a fifth-place, score-4 tally relieved to get down to busi-

Staff report SOUTHERN UTE CUSTODIAL DEPT.

It started with an idea in 2014 after Custodial Supervisor Jess Baidwan earned Green Building expert certification (CIMS-GB); why not try to certify one building on campus? Which building and how long would that take? Answer: In 2015 the Leonard Burch Building was certified green and according to available data, was the first on any American Indian Reservation. In 2017 the Clean Team pushed to earn certifications for seven buildings on campus, this status was maintained through 2020.

CULTURAL CENTER & MUSEUM

Welcome back!

Staff report
SOUTHERN UTE CULTURAL CENTER & MUSEUM

Maykah! Greetings from the Southern Ute Cultural Center and Museum (SUC-CM) staff. We are so excited to welcome you back to the SUCCM on Sept. 7. Although we have been quiet, we have been working hard this past year during COVID. We've got some new things that we can't wait to share with you. When we reopen, please come to see our new library; the redesigned Gift Shop; and Inside Out 2.0, our new temporary exhibit.

We've also been taking care of things behind the scenes. For example, with the help of our colleagues in Property and Facilities, we upgraded the electronic readers we use to monitor humidity, temperature, and lighting in our exhibit cases. We've also developed a strategic plan and have lots of ideas for new programs such as revitalizing our native gardens and creating a consignment program for artists.

We will also be introducing planning monthly workshops and programs for kids, families, and adults. In September, we will be offering classes to the public about powwows and regalia as a part of History Live! a regional, monthlong effort to promote culture and learning and launch a new story hour for young kids every Tuesday morning.

We are honored to serve you in such a warm and welcoming place. We hope that you will come, enjoy it too.

The SUCCM team includes: Venessa Carel, Tallias Cantsee, Susan Cimburek, Brianne Goodtracks-Alires, and SkyDawn Moccasin-Flower. If you have questions or suggestions, we would love to hear from you at muse-um@southernute-nsn.gov

HEALTHY RECIPES

Summer fruit: On the grill or marinated

Lisa B. Smith, RDN SHINING MOUNTAIN HEALTH & WELLNESS

There are so many delicious fruits still in season. Fruit has an abundance of nutrients. Vitamins, minerals, fiber, water, antioxidants, and anti-inflammatories.

Have you tried them grilled? They have a fresh taste and are naturally sweet. Fruit makes a wonderful dessert and kids really like them once they give them a try! They really complement meals prepared on the grill such as BBQ chicken or ribs, burgers and brats.

Fruit can be grilled with or without a marinade or they can just be marinated and served with fresh herbs. Try these ideas or get creative and make up your own!

BEE Heard: International Overdose Awareness Day

Opioid addiction has been terrorizing the United States for nearly three decades. Like all communities in the country, The Southern Ute Indian Reservation has been impacted. Here at the Southern Ute Behavioral Health Center, we believe it's important to spread awareness about how to address a community issue such as this.

We would like to inform everyone that August 31 is International Overdose Awareness Day. This article will provide a brief history of the epidemic along with information about International Overdose Awareness Day.

The early days of the opioid epidemic began as far back as the early to late 90's, when the country saw an increase in opioid prescriptions. The introduction of the pain killer OxyContin increased the level of addiction and overdoses well into the 2000's.

The 2nd wave of the epidemic began in the late 2000's, early 2010's with the increase of heroin use and overdoses. Today the number of overdose cases is much higher due to the powerful drug fentanyl (Center for Disease Control, 2021). In 2017 the President declared the opioid epidemic a "public health emergency" and stated, "this epidemic is a national health emergency" (CMS, 2020, np). The number of overdoses across the country has continued to increase every year.

Opioid addiction and deaths have reached tribes across the US, Canada, and Alaska. The COVID-19 panican Indian/Alaskan Natives increasing 34% from 2019 to 2020 (Baumgartner & Radley, 2021). With COVID-19 raising other health concerns, it has been difficult maintaining awareness about the increase in overdose deaths. This problem has not gone away and will

SOUTHERN UTE TRIBAL HEALTH don't continue to address it.

International Overdose Awareness Day was first started in 2001 by a woman named Sally J. Finn from Melbourne, Australia. The purpose of the campaign has been to raise awareness about overdoses and how they not only effect the person, but also families and communities (About the Campaign, 2020).

The goals for Overdose Awareness Day are:

- To provide an opportunity for people to publicly mourn loved ones in a safe environment, some for the first time, without feeling guilt or shame.
- To include the greatest number of people in International Overdose Awareness Day events and encourage non-denominational involvement.
- give community members information about the issue of fatal and non-fatal overdose.
- To send a strong message to current and former people who use drugs that they are valued.
- To stimulate discussion Prevention Training about overdose prevention and drug policy.
- To provide basic information on the range of support services that are available.
- To prevent and reduce drug-related harm by supporting evidence-based policy and practice.
- To inform people around the world about the risk of overdose. (About the Campaign, 2020, np).

To get more information about International Overdose Awareness Day, please demic saw an increase in go to their website (https:// overdose deaths, with Amer- www.overdosedav.com/) where you can order wristbands or lanyards to show support and bring awareness. The Boys and Girls Club of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe celebrated the end of a successful Summer Club by throwing a "End of Summer BBQ" on Friday, Aug. 20 in Ute Park. The Club provided fun, educational and safe programing for over 80 youth during the summer. Family friends and staff were all in attendance at this year's event. Tribal Council also attended and provided the club members with words of wisdom and thanked BGC staff for all their hard work. This summer's programing was the first inperson club to happen since the COVID-19 pandemic started in 2020. The summer club also worked with the youth Employment Program (YEP) to train two youth workers during the summer. This club is making memorable and exciting experiences for youth in Indian Country.

By Grace Gonzales YOUTH EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

Hello, my name is Grace Gonzales, I am a member of the Southern Ute Indian Tribe and have been using the YEP program for two years now.

I enjoy using this resource to help guide me into being an adult soon and have those characteristics to be able to adapt to different work environments. I really enjoy working here at the SunUte Community Center with my amazing, enthusiastic, and wonderful co-workers.

On my first day, I met have our ups and downs Deanna Cruz, Lisa Olguin, of being a receptionist and and Divine Windy Boy. They started me at the front desk learning how to use the programs, create memberships, check out drinks, and answering phones. The first day was long, full of learning, and most of all a lot of socializing have a job and you have with our customers.

As the weeks went on your boss gives you and you

During this job you have the nicest, most kind-hearted, most wonderful people you could ever meet, but you also experience the not so nice. A characteristic that we could all learn is to keep to ourselves and always have a smile, even behind our mask, people appreciate that.

Working in this environment our customers notice the smallest things, and our front desk staff continues to get compliments every day. I enjoy that.

The staff that I work with can make your day in seconds. Not to forget our boss Robin, who is so happy, energetic, the most big-hearted and open-minded lady you could ever meet. She is such a blessing to this community, and to our tribe. During this job she helped me open up, have the courage to talk to customers, and made me feel comfortable at this job and I appreciate that.

SAVE THE DATE. TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 2021

As we are returning to work, things are going to be different. Some are not returning or have different expectations. Many will return to their offices and business travel as the world turns on again. In other cases. businesses will retain their hybrid or remote models, both to cut costs and maintain flexibility and productivity

So, how do we leap forward when we've discovered transformational elements that are beneficial? What are the human elements that are critical for a healthy, functional workforce environment? Rehumanizing Work sets out to provide answers to this very question. In order to facilitate this transformation opportunity, leaders must navigate a changed market and internally focus on making human engagement and wellbeing of the workforce top of mind.

At the 2021 Alliance Summit, we will have a strong, healthy conversation with leaders who have the ability to make some lasting beneficial changes to their organizations. Our common goal is to enable the recalibration of our businesses and our workforce to a new landscape.

Confirmed Keynote Speakers:

Steve Cadigan- Steve is a talent strategist and company culture expert responsible for building world-class teams and company cultures at some of the world's most respected organizations. He is the author of a book just published called "The Workquake", whose mission is to build a better, more honest, employer-employee relationship. What employers need and what employees want has evolved; however, many have yet to build a model and a contract that feels safe and inspirational to both parties.

Kerry Siggins - Kerry is the CEO of StoneAge. She is one of Colorado's Top 25 Most Influential Young Professionals and was a finalist for Colorado's CEO of the Year in 2017. StoneAge is recognized as a Top 100 company to work for by Outside Magazine. She is an author and a blogger and has a two successful podcasts. Kerry is all about showing up, doing the work, sharing experiences and helping

Cory Richards - Cory is an explorer and a visual storyteller. His adventurous expeditions have taken him to the peaks of Antarctica and the Himalayas of Nepal as well as the war zones of Angola, Uganda and Pakistan, and he was named one of National Geographic's Adventurers of the Year in 2012. He has pursued projects focused on adventure, geopolitical and social impact and tells a story of personal realization and mindset of leadership

Jessica Matlock- Jessica is CEO of La Plata Electric Association (LPEA), a utility in Colorado, and its first female CEO in the company's 80-year history. Under her leadership, Matlock is helping LPEA transition to a clean energy company and a "utility of the future." Jessica worked as an energy expert for the U.S. Senate and advised the U.S. Congress and the Executive Branch on renewable energy and cyber security challenges related to the electric grid.

SUFG gets LithTec road improvements

Staff report LITHIFIED TECHNOLOGIES

The Southern Ute Indian Tribe just installed their first LithTec Road at the Sky Ute Fairgrounds. The Full Depth Lithification (FDL) process began Monday, Aug. 16 by grinding up the existing failing asphalt road directly into the base layer and recycling the material in place, rather than hauling it off to a landfill or recycling plant, which adds significant costs to the project. Under the road they found a lot of cobble or large rocks that were removed in preparation for the LithTec application.

Lithified Technology US, LLC is a Santa Fe, N.M. based company that produces customized LithTec formulas. Every road project is pretested in their Geo-Technical labs prior to installaand they fail from the bottom." Typically, an untreated base course would measure 25,000 psi in a resilient modulus test. The Lith-Tec treated base achieves a minimum of 500,000 psi modulus, which is the same strength as asphalt. This enables road designers to reduce the thickness of the asphalt by 50% to 67%, which saves the entire project 30% to 50% through Value Engineering. Rural roads can apply a chip seal surface on top of a LithTec base, which provides an all-weather surface that looks and performs like asphalt for 75% - 80% less than the cost of an asphalt road.

The "Accelerated Lithition to insure a successful fication Technology" repproject. There is a saying licates a process in nature in road construction that... called Lithification, which "Road wear from the top turns soil into stone over thousands of years, when certain naturally occurring minerals are present along with heat, pressure and time. For example, sand turns into sandstone and clay turns into slate. LithTec accomplishes this soil to stone process in as little as 24-hours by using the same naturally occurring minerals along with a proprietary blend of high-performance ingredients.

The LithTec formulations

The road materials are then compacted at Optimum Moisture Content (OMC) with a 12-ton Sheepsfoot roller, then finished off with a smooth steel drum roller. The LithTec was installed on Wednesday and on Thursday and Friday the LithTec treated base will be finished off with a double Chip-Seal surface on top.

If you would like more infowrmation on this breakthrough technology, please call Johnny Valdez, CEO - AAGM-LithTec, at 970-799-1580 or visit our website at www.LithTec.com.

The reclaimer truck grinds and mixes the current road material down to six inches and the "sheep's foot" machine compacts the soil.

SOUTHERN UTE FAIRGROUNDS

Technology transforms how roads are built and repaired

By Steve Ponton SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

On a one-half mile stretch of roadway on the Southern Ute Fairgrounds in Ignacio, Colo., various Tribal officials, including Tribal elected officials, employees from the Construction and Projects Department, company representatives, and others were on hand to witness a unique road rebuild and stabilization process, Wednesday, Aug. 18.

Approximately three dozen people were present to witness the roadbuilding, many taking photographs. Walter Fuqua, company operations consultant and liaison, filmed the road-making process.

Both the process and the company name are called Lithified Technologies, or Lith Tech for short. The company has been around for 11 years. Photographs of a Lith Tech road near Monticello, Utah show it to be in excellent condition afand rebuilding of roads, including the construction of entirely new roads as well. In the case here in Ignacio, compared to traditional methods, this road is being rebuilt and repaired faster, will last longer, at significantly lower costs, with no damage to the environment. And it can be replicated with essentially any roadway in need of repair.

We all know the saying, "too good to be true." this case, it appears there is a good chance that it is true, with plenty of scientific studies, empirical evidence, and real-life experience to back it up.

The proclamations were set in place originally to encourage non-native men and families to pursue "hostile Indians" and even offered rewards for the killing of American Indians. This ultimately led to the Sand Creek Massacre that killed Arapaho Indians.

COMMUNITY LIBRARY

A tiny little card; so much value

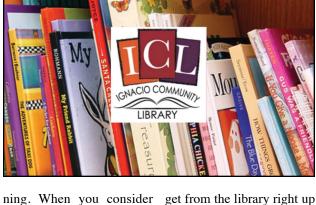

Staff report IGNACIO COMMUNITY LIBRARY

Do you carry a handful of little plastic cards with you, either in your wallet or on your keyring?

It seems that we all carry these "value cards" with us every day. I was thinking about the value of these cards recently as I was considering that September is Library Card Sign-up Month with the American Library Association. When we carry and use a value card, otherwise known as a loyalty card, we hope to receive some benefit from its use.

What benefit is there? With store loyalty cards we receive some type of discount, but only when we spend money with that store. And for those of us with credit cards, the interest on them can be out of this world. With a library card interest is the best part and rather than a penalty it's puts into it.

Consider then the little plastic library card you have. For starters, it's free. You don't have to spend anything to receive one or to use it. And the value you receive is somewhat stunall the subscription options we have available today and their associated costs we spend much more than people did just one generation back.

With movie subscriptions, tv station subscriptions, streaming music services, book, magazine and newspaper subscriptions the costs can be daunting. But for one adult using 12 books, 12 children's books, 12 audiobooks and 2 newspapers a year with 52 movsimply what the card holder ies and 12 adult programs, in one year that person gets $994 worth of value just for using the library. What a value for a tiny piece of plastic! If you've never thought in terms of the value of that card, maybe it's time to consider what value you might your ICL "value card."

Since September is Library Card Sign-up Month, we hope you will consider getting a card, or renewing the one you have as well as encouraging your family and friends to do the same. With the Friends of the Ignacio Library, ICL is partnering with local schools to encourage all of our kids to have a card. We are providing a pizza party to one class in each grade with the highest percentage of library card holders.

Your library staff is looking forward to the start of school, to seeing more and more of you in the library, and to connecting our community with our library. Please stop by soon to get

- September 16-17: Being Trauma and Healing Informed (nativewellness.com) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (2 days). Historical and inter-generational trauma continues to impact tribal and urban communities. We can see the unhealthy cycles of trauma repeat themselves over and over again. How this affects our places of work, individuals, and families is the behavior associated with trauma- chronic negativity, people working in silos, addictions, people taking their own lives, lateral oppression, violence, hopelessness, and more. Trauma keeps many of us in a place of deficit-thinking, often keeping us from thinking like our ancestors- from a place of abundance-based ideas, thoughts, and actions.

"Where there has been trauma, healing is the answer." This two-day interactive training will focus on providing an understanding of trauma on the brain, on behavior, how it plays out in the workplace and community and how to begin to address trauma and healing in your community. The training will also include how programs in their policies and delivery of services can be trauma and healing-informed.

"We appreciate our state, federal and other partners who join us in seeing the importance of aspen restoration, invasive weed treatment, the installation of new wildlife water resources and other habitat enhancement work," said Blake Henning, RMEF chief conservation officer. "There are also various important studies that will assist wildlife managers to learn more and better manage elk herds."

"It's important to highlight that our volunteers spend a lot of time and are devoted to raising these funds by hosting banquets, membership drives and other activities. We are grateful for all they do," said Kyle Weaver, RMEF president and CEO.

CORONAVIRUS

FDA grants full approval to Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) granted full approval to the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine today for individuals ages 16 and up. The Pfizer vaccine continues to be available under emergency use authorization (EUA) for individuals ages 12 to 15. It is also available under EUA for the administration of a third dose for moderately to severely immunocompromised individuals. Booster shots for anyone other than immunocompromised people are not approved or being offered at this time. San Juan Basin Public Health (SJBPH) is awaiting federal guidance regarding boosters for additional populations and is preparing to distribute boosters, alongside local partners, when authorized. SJBPH emphasizes that full FDA approval for the Pfizer vaccine is a positive step forward for vaccinating the community. While the Pfizer, Moderna, and Johnson & Johnson vaccines all met the rigorous scientific and safety standards for EUA, the FDA's full approval today demonstrates that the Pfizer vaccine meets the highest standards for safety, efficacy, and manufacturing quality that a vaccine can receive from the FDA. The Pfizer vaccine has been available under EUA since December 11, 2020. EUAs can be used by the FDA during public health emergencies to provide access to medical products that may be effective in preventing, diagnosing, or treating disease. FDA approved vaccines undergo additional review processes for quality, safety and effectiveness. Full approval for the Mod-cine that they originally ics and information about erna vaccine is currently un- received. If the matching the COVID vaccine can be

Staff report son is also expected to apply SAN JUAN BASIN PUBLIC for full review by the FDA.

> "Full approval by the FDA is a positive step forward in vaccinating our community and limiting the spread of COVID-19. We've been looking forward to this milestone," said Liane Jollon, Executive Director of SJBPH. "For anyone who has been hesitant or putting off their vaccine, the full approval of the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine by the FDA should give you the utmost confidence that the vaccine is extremely safe and effective. All three authorized vaccines are highly effective at preventing hospitalization and death and we urge you to protect yourself and your family right away, especially with the new school year starting. People who are not yet fully vaccinated remain at high risk of falling ill with the more transmissible Delta variant of COVID-19. The majority of transmission is occurring in the unvaccinated population." Full approval by the FDA for the Pfizer vaccine may provide additional support for employers or institutions who have been considering mandating the COVID-19 vaccine for their staff.

Full approval for the Pfizer vaccine comes on the heels of authorization by the FDA and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) for a third dose of mRNA vaccine for moderately to severely immunocompromised Americans ages 12 and older. For immunocompromised people, booster shots should be administered at least four weeks after the second dose of the Pfizer or Moderna vaccine. Vaccine coming clinics. able, immunocompromised individuals may receive the alternative mRNA vaccine.

According to the CDC and FDA, individuals who are fully vaccinated and not immunocompromised do not need a booster shot at this time. SJBPH is continuing to monitor any new guidance as it becomes available and will keep the public informed.

At this time, the amended EUA and updated CDC guidance for boosters only refers to the mRNA vaccines. There is not enough data yet to determine if a mRNA booster shot is beneficial for people who originally received a Johnson & Johnson vaccine. Boosters have not been recommended yet for immunocompromised people who originally received the Johnson & Johnson vaccine.

Research demonstrates immunocompromised individuals may not build as much immunity when vaccinated as non-immunocompromised people do, and benefit from receiving a third dose of mRNA vaccine. Immunocompromised people have a higher risk of becoming seriously ill from COVID-19. Public health experts estimate this vulnerable group is approximately 3% of the total U.S. population.

The COVID-19 vaccine is now widely available to all residents ages 12 and up. Youth ages 12 to 17 are only eligible for the Pfizer vaccine. Minors must have a signed parental consent form which can be completed online when registering or at the clinic.

Although advance registration is preferred, walkins are also welcome at upder review. Johnson & John- vaccine type is not avail- found on SJBPH's website.

FDA/CDC approve COVID-19 vaccine booster shots for immunocompromised individuals

Staff report SAN JUAN BASIN PUBLIC HEALTH

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) authorizes mRNA COVID-19 vaccine booster shots for moderately to severely immunocompromised Americans ages 12 and older. Booster shots should be administered at least four weeks after the second dose of the Pfizer or Moderna vaccine. Vaccine recipients are advised to seek the same mRNA vaccine that they originally received. If the matching vaccine type is not available, immunocompromised individuals may receive the alternative mRNA vaccine.

At this time, the amended Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) and updated CDC guidance only refers to the mRNA vaccines. There is not enough data yet to determine if a mRNA booster shot is beneficial for people who originally received a Johnson & Johnson vaccine. Boosters have not been recommended yet for immunocompromised people who originally received the Johnson & Johnson vaccine.

The updated guidance recommends booster shots for moderately to severely immunocompromised people. Research demonstrates these individuals may not build as much immunity when vaccinated as non-immunocompromised people do, and benefit from receiving a third dose of mRNA vaccine. Immunocompromised ple have a higher risk of becoming seriously ill from COVID-19. Public health exshould seek a COVID-19 booster shot if you have:

- Been receiving active cancancers of the blood.
- Received an organ transmune-suppressing medications.
- Received a stem cell transplant within the last two years or are taking medicine to suppress the immune system.
- Moderate or severe prisyndrome).

- Advanced or untreated HIV infection.
- Active treatment with highdose corticosteroids or other drugs that may suppress the immune system.

Consult with your primary care provider to discuss if a booster shot is recommended for you. San Juan Basin Public Health (SJBPH) recommends immunocompromised individuals seek a booster through an enrolled vaccine provider or existing vaccine clinic of their choosing. Immunocompromised individuals will be asked to self-attest for eligibility at the time of vaccination for the additional dose. If possible, people eligible for a booster dose should seek a clinic that offers the same mRNA COVID-19 vaccine that they originally received (Pfizer or Moderna vaccine).

According to the CDC and FDA, individuals who are fully vaccinated and immunocompromised do not need a booster shot at this time. Federal public health authorities are engaged in a science-based, rigorous process to consider whether or when a booster might be necessary for additional populations. This process takes into account laboratory data, clinical trial data, and cohort data - which can include data from specific pharmaceutical companies but does not rely on this data exclusively. Southern Ute Tribal Members Protecting our Past, Present & Future

The strength to overcome obstacles is demonstrated throughout the history of our people. Today, we are faced with new challenges that require us to come together to keep each other safe. The pandemic has lasted more than a year, which means a year without our ceremonies, social gatherings, and a year without being able to spend time with our loved ones that allow us to do the very things that define us as Ute people.

We must continue our safe practices so that we can overcome these obstacles to continue our culture and traditions in the safest ways that we can. Help us encourage and protect our people, by educating the importance of becoming vaccinated. Your personal perspective can help explain how vaccinations ultimately protect our culture and afford us an opportunity to continue our traditions.

The Southern Ute Incident Management's Communication Team will accept video, recorded and written testimonials encouraging the safe health practices, getting vaccinated & tested, or any encouraging message to promote a positive and healthy mental and physical environment to our tribal membership and surrounding communities.

- Who: Southern Ute Tribal Members, tribal staff, and Community members.
- What: Testimonials and feedback: safety practices, consistent testing and why vaccination is important to you or why you choose to remain unvaccinated.
- Where: Submit written testimonials to the TIS Department email: tis@southernute-nsn.gov. Submit video or recorded testimonials to Ms. Lindsay Box, Tribal Council Communication Specialist via text at 970-553-0287.

Please continue to protect our people by wearing face coverings, practicing basic hygiene, and maintaining a safe distance from others. For more information please call the TIS Department at: 970-563-2281.

Boys' XC rebirth enters second season

Quintanas cross consecutively at Bear Chase

By Joel Priest SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Due to Spring Commencement a few months ago, plus the Colorado High School Activities Association giving its goahead for football to make an on-time return this fall, it was almost assured that Ignacio Boys' Cross-Country, decades-dormant but confidently reborn last year despite the COVID-19 pandemic, would see a decrease in personnel for the 2021 campaign.

Fortunately, the expected subtraction didn't leave the program with negative participation.

"I think it's cool," returning sophomore Corey Gomez said, of IHS' re-return. "We don't have as many boys here of course - we had some graduate but I'm sure we'll get some more here soon."

And paced by junior Eppie Quintana and sophomore Phillip Quintana's pack-like finish the Bobcats, likely not yet at full strength numbers-wise, managed to begin the new season with two top-20 results at Dolores' 3rd Annual Boggy Draw Bear Chase. Eppie Quintana's time of 21 minutes, 21.01 seconds secured 15th place overall, while Phillip's 21:53.53 earned 16th.

Gomez's 25:15.07 landed him in 31st, but was still satisfactory as a baseline reading to head coach Daniel Holley.

"Corey's going to be a team member on varsity," he said, alluding to Gomez's freshman-year learnas a junior-varsity harrier. to his development; he had a strong summer."

a time trial," Holley continued. "We've been doing some workouts in practice, so we said, 'Let's string it all together' - see what we can get for our 5K marks to begin the season."

"We had easy runs some days, and then the past three weeks we'd started speed training," said Gomez. "Did some 200s, some 800s, and this past week we did miles too for speed...which was really helpful – especially on the hills, and towards the end
