BROADBAND INFRASTRUCTURE

What is broadband and how will it improve internet speeds?

Fiber optic rollout underway across the Reservation

By Jeremy Wade Shockley
THE SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

The Southern Ute Indian Tribe has developed a strategic fiber and wireless network plan for improving broadband infrastructure on the Southern Ute Indian Reservation, using a license from the Federal Communications Commission for the 2.5 GHz spectrum. Once fully deployed, the Tribe's plan will provide high-speed internet connections to 85 percent of the households on the Reservation and 95 percent of all tribal member homes. The Tribe is nearing completion of Phase I of its plan, which included laying down the backbone infrastructure for fiber optic cable to facilitate faster internet, while future proofing the demand for reliable high-speed data. "Broadband service on the Reservation is woefully deficient," noted Southern Ute Shared Services in their grant proposal. Further stating that, "Improved broadband is needed for economic development, educational opportunities, enhanced access to health care through telemedicine and telehealth programs, and for government operations." The need for improved broadband on the Southern Ute Indian Reservation is currently being addressed through a series of grants, primarily the $44 million in federal funding to deploy high-speed internet, awarded to the Southern Ute Indian Tribe. A total of $73 million was awarded to nine tribal entities in latest round of "Internet for All" grants. The announcement came on Wednesday, Nov. 30, at the 2022 White House Tribal Nations Summit held at the Department of Interior in Washington, D.C. "Wireless Companies are currently trying to do point-to-point to your house, max speed is 50Mbps, and cannot reach most houses if they are out of sight of towers," explained Delbert Cuthair, Broadband and Digital Equity Manager with Southern Ute Shared Services. "We're trying to replace that, because with fiber you can get a lot faster speeds and add a lot more people to the system." "When we refer to 'Fiber,' we refer to fiber optic internet, which refers to fi-

Southern Ute Youth Group reunion aims to share and reflect

Social event to be held at Southern Ute Museum

By Divine Windy Boy
THE SOUTHERN UTE DRUM

The Southern Ute Cultural Preservation Department invites past members of the Southern Ute Youth Group to a reunion to reminisce on dance performances and past travels. Guests will have the opportunity to share their memories, old photos, and enjoy a meal provided by the staff of the Southern Ute Cultural Preservation Department.

The Southern Ute Youth Group formed around the year 1974 and was coordinated by Cynthia Kent who was working as the Southern Ute Education Director at the time. The group traveled as far as Winnipeg, Man., to perform traditional Nuche dances. The group also spent a lot of time fundraising and attending various local events.

In an interview with Cultural Events/ Heritage Coordinator, Edward Box III, he shared what the Southern Ute Youth Group had accomplished as they traveled the nation. "[Southern Ute Youth Group] taught us a lot about working together and traveling – what to expect leaving the reservation and experiencing the world out there," Box said. "We did a lot of events here locally; our performances were Ute centric."

Before transitioning into the Colorado Commission of Indian Affairs (CCIA), Cynthia Kent served as a role model to participants of the Southern Ute Youth Group in how she would facilitate appearances and events. "She was a role model, we would look to her to show us 'I got this event, this is what we need to do, this is what they want', she was our mentor," Box said. "We were really sad when she moved to CCIA. I still remember, you would walk into the Mouache Capote Building you go up the first stairs and you turn right, that was her office, right there and we'd have meetings I still remember."

Questions about taxation of deliveries on the Reservation

Staff report
SOUTHERN UTE INDIAN TRIBE

Concerns have been expressed that stores outside of the Reservation but located in Colorado are sometimes charging state taxes where goods purchased are delivered to tribal members or the Tribe on the Reservation. This is particularly true of Home Depot in Durango, Colo. which has been constantly reminded of this obligation not to charge tribal members taxes for these deliveries.

The law on this is clear. Tribal members are exempt from local and state taxes on goods delivered to them on the Reservation by Colorado businesses. This was recognized by the Colorado legislature in 2014 when HB-14-1080 was signed into law and codified at C.R.S. § 39-26-727.

Under that statute, "all sales of tangible personal property or services to the Southern Ute Indian Tribe, Ute Mountain Ute Tribe, or an enrolled member of either tribe, are exempt from taxation ... if the vendor is located ... outside of a reservation but the property or service is delivered by the vendor and received by the Tribe or the tribal member on a reservation." C.R.S. § 39-26-727. Therefore, when tribal members, for example, go to Home Depot and purchase goods and services to be delivered to them on the Reservation, the tribal members are exempt from state and local sales and use taxes on those purchases.

If you are experiencing problems with Home Depot or any other business taxing you with respect to deliveries on the Reservation, please call 970-563-0100 and ask for a member of Tribal Council, the Executive Office, or the Legal Department so it can be addressed.

WESTERN STATES AND
TRIBAL NATIONS

I am excited to share the news that we will be hosting the “Western States and Tribal Nations Natural Gas Initiative Capitol Hill Briefing: LNG Exports from the Pacific Coast” on March 9 in the Capitol Hill Visitor Center in Washington, D.C.

The briefing will feature a distinguished panel of guests including the Honorable Hirai Hirohide, Vice Minister for International Affairs, Japan Ministry of Economy Trade and Industry, the Honorable Senator John Barrasso of Wyoming and the Honorable Senator Ben Ray Lujan of New Mexico.

Also joining us at this bipartisan, international forum will be representatives of the Ute Indian Tribe, the Southern Ute Indian Tribe, the Jicarilla Apache Nation as well as executives from Semptra Infrastructure Partners, Tallgrass Energy, and the Board Chair of the Wyober optic communication, by sending a beam of light through fiber optic glass cables,” Cuthair said.

Currently, contract crews with Bonfire Engineering & Construction are working throughout the Reservation to lay the fiber line. The core element of the broadband infrastructure is essentially an underground line comprised of a 7-way micro conduit bundle. One of the micro conduits within the bundle will hold a 144-fiber cable, leaving six spare micro conduits for use in Phase II and future growth.

“Phase I is just the backbone, or the main arteries. Phase II is all the little fingers going to individual households and business,” Cuthair said. “When we’re done, and we get it completed, it’s going to be 100 megabytes symmetrical service at the minimum – up to 2gb speeds available to the Reservation. These speeds are equal to or better than anything offered currently in cities like Albuquerque and Denver.”

Roadside crews are currently working on Hwy172, Hwy160, Hwy151, CR516, CR334, and CR330 leading into and neighboring the town of Ignacio. The broadband project includes the use of plowing and boring machines to place the micro conduit, in addition to air-blown fiber equipment to install the fiber cables, plus reclamation and seeding along roadways.

“Bonfire Engineering & Construction will connect everything and make it one line [once individual sections are finished], they don’t hand pull it anymore,” Cuthair said. “They will take a machine and blow the fiber through it, removing human error. They can blow 10 thousand feet in a matter of an hour. Then you can have a more contiguous length; that way you don’t have to splice as often – which would have a negative impact on transmission speeds.”

“Installing the 7-way micro conduit bundles protects the network from over capacity issues in the future,” Cuthair explained. “We can blow additional fiber cables through the six spare micro conduits at any point in time without incurring the high costs of redundant construction. It gives you that option to update and expand a lot more – that’s for sure.”

In telecommunications, broadband refers to the wide-bandwidth data transmission that transports multiple signals at a wide range of frequencies and internet traffic types, which enables messages to be sent simultaneously and is used in fast internet connections. The medium can be coaxial cable, optical fiber, wireless internet (radio), twisted pair, or satellite. In the context of internet access, broadband is used to mean any high-speed internet access that is always on and faster than dial-up access over traditional analog.

According to Deepak Sharma, in a paper published by Sterlite Technologies, “Over the past thirty years, internet connection speeds have steadily increased. Higher speeds have also been driven by the move to higher-resolution displays. On the demand side, the greater use of images and video rather than plain text has also been a driving force.”

“This growth in connection speeds is expected to continue in the foreseeable future, Sharma explains. “The trend is encapsulated in ‘Nielsen’s law of Internet Bandwidth’, an empirical observation which states that a high-end user’s connection speed grows by 50 percent per year, or doubles every 21 months.”

Travel Impacts and important safety reminder

One year ago today, February 10, 2022, a motorist hit Dominic Sandoval, 22, of Farmington, N.M. resulting in the loss of his life, while also injuring George Sedlack, 53, of Colorado Springs. Both workers were placing work zone signage along Colorado Highway 172, south of Elmore’s Corner, when the vehicle struck their truck parked along the shoulder of the highway.

Regional travel will continue to be impacted by the ongoing Broadband Modernization Project, and it is of utmost importance that motorists stay vigilant and aware of traffic flaggers and speed restriction, while also adhering to general traffic laws in work zones.

The Southern Ute Youth Group Reunion will be held on Saturday, March 25, at the Southern Ute Cultural Center and Museum's large classroom at 11 a.m. Attendees can expect to share a meal and discuss their fondest memories. Box hopes to collect digital scans of photos brought in by participants, to be placed into an archive. "I want to thank [group members] for what they did for the Tribe, and not just that, take time to honor the ones who have passed on and just come together to have a good time," he said.

Box hopes to share teachings of traditional Ute dances to youth and bring the previous youth group members back to the dance circle, to help create a sense of community and happiness. "That's my vision, the youth group members who are now elders I want them to remember," he said. "I feel if we come together, we can bring back those dances and plus bring back the ones who used to dance back then – bring them back into the circle of dancing."

Muffins can be a healthy choice

By Lisa Smith, RDN, CLC
SHINING MOUNTAIN HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Muffins often seem like dessert for breakfast, but you can make these a healthy choice by using whole grain flour, reducing the sugar, adding some flax seeds, and using Greek yogurt to replace some of the butter!

Wholesome Poppy Seed Muffins

Ingredients:

- 2 medium lemons
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 cups white whole wheat flour or regular whole wheat flour
- 1/4 cup poppy seeds
- 2 tablespoons flax seeds (optional)
- 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 5 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted and cooled
- 3/4 cup plain Greek yogurt
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Directions:

1. Preheat oven to 375 degrees Fahrenheit. Grease your muffin pan using butter or non-stick cooking spray or line with muffin cups.
2. Shred the skin of both lemons using a fine shredder.

3. Combine the sugar and lemon zest in a medium mixing bowl. Whisk in the flour, poppy seeds, flax seeds, baking powder, baking soda and salt.
4. In a separate bowl, whisk together the butter, yogurt, eggs, vanilla and the juice of one of the lemons.
5. Pour the liquid ingredients into the dry ingredients. Mix to combine until just moistened, do not over mix!
6. Divide batter evenly between the 12 muffin cups. The batter will be thick. Fill each cup 3/4 full.
7. Bake for 16 to 19 minutes or until tops are golden and a toothpick inserted in the center of a muffin comes out clean.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

BEE HEARD: Tips on talking to your child about mental well-being, mental illness

First visit with a Mental Health Professional

By Cedra Etesam, MSW
SOUTHERN UTE BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

Here are some tips to help talk to your youth about mental well-being, mental illness, and their first visit with a Mental Health Professional:

First, work on de-stigmatizing the language around mental illness in your own mind.

- Be open and honest.
- Do not sugar-coat.
- Be truthful, not hurtful.
- Be as prepared as possible for their response.

Stay loving, compassionate, and understanding as you both go through this entire journey through diagnosis and/or evaluation of your child's mental health. Using words that are age proper, simple, and direct to prepare your child in advance is helpful.

Starting the process in a positive direction by listening to your child and responding with a reassuring friendly tone can help your child feel heard and validated. Emotions are okay - they are neither bad nor good, let us learn together how we can express them without being mean to one another. Remember the dream works when the team works together!

Reminder: If you need to talk to someone, please reach out.

It's okay not to feel okay. Please contact us if you or someone you know has been struggling with their emotions, behaviors, or substance use. We can help you find appropriate tools and services that could help you overcome obstacles in your life. We are here for you. Don't hesitate to contact the Southern Ute Behavioral Health Division or the Native Connections Program at 970.563.5700 for more information or to set up an appointment to see a counselor or therapist.

Alternate Resource Benefits

WHY YOU SHOULD APPLY

Enrolling in Alternate Resources

Why You Should Apply

- Generates revenue to the Southern Ute Health Center, which allows us to:
 - Buy new equipment
 - Expand services
 - Hire more staff
- Saves the Southern Ute Indian Tribe money
 - The Tribe would not have to pay for services out of the Tribal Health Benefit Plan for Tribal Members
- The Southern Ute Health Center is required by law to exhaust all applicable alternate resources
- Could result in a denial from the Purchase/Referred Care (PRC) Program if you do not apply
 - You may then be responsible to pay the bill
- Access to non-emergency transportation
- Allow us to expand our Purchase/Referred Care Priority (Currently at Priority Level 1)

The Tribal Health Department has made enrolling our patients in alternate resources (Medicaid, Medicare, VA, etc) a priority.

If you are contacted by a Southern Ute Health Center Benefits Coordinator, we respectfully ask you to take their call and listen to what they have to say. Their job is to help you enroll in an alternate resource.

Does it Cost Money?

There is no cost to you to apply. The process takes about an hour to an hour and a half. One of the Southern Ute Health Center Benefits Coordinators will help walk you through the process.

PUBLIC HEALTH
EPA encourages Rocky Mountain residents to ‘Test Your Nest’
Radon mitigation proven to save lives

Staff report
U.S. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

January is National Radon Action Month, and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is working with our partners to spread the word about radon health risks in homes, the importance of testing, and steps homeowners can take to reduce risk in the Rocky Mountain and Great Plains states of Colorado, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, and Wyoming.

Radon is a known carcinogen and is estimated to cause more than 20,000 lung cancer deaths each year in the U.S. In fact, the colorless, odorless gas is the leading cause of lung cancer in nonsmokers. The good news is the health risks and impacts are preventable — testing and reducing radon levels in your home, and saving lives, is easy.

This year’s Call to Action, “Test Your Nest!” is especially important to our region’s residents as large portions of these states are at risk for high indoor radon levels that can cause lung cancer. The best way to protect against radon is to perform a simple, low-cost test of your home. EPA recommends homeowners take action to reduce radon levels when they exceed the action level of 4.0 picocuries per liter (or 4pCi/L).

Map of Radon Zones in the United States

“Understanding your home’s radon levels is one of the most important steps you can take to protect you and your family’s health,” said EPA Regional Administrator KC Becker. “I encourage you to take some time to check your nest this winter, so you can be sure that quality time spent inside with friends and loved ones is not just comfortable, but safe.”

Want to learn more? The information and resources below can help.

THINGS YOU CAN DO

- Learn the basics – Visit EPA’s Radon website for a wide range of information, including free radon publications.
- Test your home – EPA and the U.S. Surgeon General recommend that all homes in the U.S. be tested for radon. Learn more about testing your home, including how to obtain an easy-to-use test kit.
- Fix your home if needed – Should your test results come back elevated, EPA recommends hiring a certified radon mitigation specialist to install a mitigation system that will prevent radon from entering your home. Read about ways to reduce radon in your home in EPA’s “Consumer’s Guide to Radon Reduction.”
- Spread the word – Check out Media Resources here and share infographics on social media and around your community to help get the word out about the importance of radon testing. Tell your family and friends about the health risk of radon.
- Building a new home? Make it radon resistant. Read more about radon-resistant new construction, “Building Radon Out: A Step-by-Step Guide to Build Radon-Resistant Homes.”

STATE-BY-STATE INFO: EPA REGION 8

Colorado Radon Facts

- Half of all homes in Colorado have high radon levels.
- Living in a home with Colorado’s average level of radon (6.4pCi/L) is like having 200 chest x-rays each year.
- Approximately 500 people in Colorado die every year from lung cancer caused by radon exposure.

First Family Night of the school year

By Mari Jo Owens, Principal
SOUTHERN UTE INDIAN
MONTESSORI ACADEMY

We had our first Family Night of the school year on Wednesday, Jan. 25. Those who attended enjoyed some good conversation on raising children now vs. the past, planned for some upcoming events, and organized a fund raiser. The next Family Night will be Wednesday, Feb. 15 – more details will be sent out.

The mid-year benchmark assessments are complete and preliminary results look favorable. With the growth that is shown with this assessment, I know the end of the year assessment will be positive also.

With the amount of snow we received, the students have had a wonderful time shoveling, sledding, and building snowmen. Experiment with freezing water in a balloon, observation of what can be found in melted snow, and what type of water melts snow faster took place. When the temperatures allow, the students are outside every day. Thank you for sending snow gear so they can enjoy this beautiful, wintery wonderland we live in.

Montessori Tidbits

While Maria Montessori observed children in the classroom, she thought about their developmental needs and what materials she could develop to suit those needs. Following up from the last Po'əkwatə article, where I wrote about math, I will focus on one traditional Montessori material: The Pink Tower.

If you've ever been in a Montessori classroom, you will know exactly what this specific material is. While some might say it is just a stack of blocks, it is not merely just that. The Pink Tower is a carefully calculated instrument to educate the senses and to implicitly introduce the decimal system. Each block is 1 centimeter longer on all sides that the one before it and there are 10 such blocks going from 1 cubic centimeter to 1000. In other words, each block is increasing exponentially. But why is it called the Pink Tower? There is no research to determine the answer, so I am going to surmise that it was developed in February due to Valentine's Day!

Positions advertised

Just like schools all over the nation, we have some job openings throughout the school. You can find applications by going to: Southern Ute Indian Tribe Jobs, click on Career Portal – Government, then click on View Current Jobs. It's as easy as that!

PUEBLO COMMUNITY COLLEGE

PCC Southwest welcomes new executive dean

By Amy Matthew
PUEBLO COMMUNITY COLLEGE
SOUTHWEST

Lisa Snyder is the new executive dean of the Pueblo Community College Southwest campus and sites.

"Dr. Snyder has an extensive background in higher education leadership, a strong desire to foster student success in the southwest corner of the state, and a proven track record of promoting a culture fostering evidence-based practice committed to diversity, equity and inclusion for students, faculty and staff," said PCC President Patty Erjavec.

Snyder and her family have lived in Durango, Colo. since 2013. Prior to joining PCC Southwest, she was the dean of the School of Humanities at San Juan College. She also worked as the associate vice president for academic affairs at Fort Lewis College.

"I look forward to building upon the outstanding work already being done by the dedicated staff at the college and to leading the campus in its efforts to increase concurrent enrollment, streamline pathways to transfer or employment and foster relationships and partnerships in southwest Colorado," said Snyder. "Durango is my home and PCC Southwest is an integral part of my community."

Her career in education spans more than 20 years. In addition to leadership positions in higher education, she was a faculty member at universities in New York and Oregon.

Snyder is a first-generation college graduate. She earned her doctorate in instructional leadership from Argosy University in Sarasota, Fla., a master's in curriculum development and instructional technology from the State University of New York Albany and a bachelor's degree in English from SUNY New Paltz.

Snyder is based at the PCC Southwest campus in Mancos and also oversees sites in Durango and Bayfield.

Students drop a line in Scott’s Pond

SUIMA Upper Elementary students, Matthew Carrillo and Jayceon Richards work together to cut a hole in the pond’s surface ice using an ice auger.

Clementine Carrillo, with her dad Jordan Carrillo, make a new fishing hole in hopes of luring a big trout to the surface.

Destiny Valdez gets a hand warmer from staff member, Andrea Hudspeth. Teachers assisted the kids in their fishing adventures Thursday.

The Southern Ute Wildlife Department hosted a group of students from the Southern Ute Indian Montessori Academy for an afternoon of ice fishing on Scott’s Pond, Thursday, Jan. 26. The Tribe provided ice augers and other fishing equipment for the students and their parents to use. Students fished alongside their peers in hopes of netting a big trout. The fishing workshop is an annual program in collaboration with SUIMA and the Wildlife Division each winter.

POSITIVE INDIAN PARENTING

Honoring our Tradition by Honoring our Children

Positive Indian Parenting (PIP) has been used for over 35 years and remains popular today because the teachings are timeless. Historically, we had rich teachings that helped children grow up safe with strong families. Colonization threatened those teachings—our Native families were being separated and traditional practices were at risk of being lost. PIP was developed in the 1980s to fill this void and was designed to help parents and families remember our traditional teachings and apply them in the modern world.

In part one of each session we will discuss examples of traditional practices and teachings from several different tribes. Instructors also share teachings from local areas and communities. Part two of each session discusses how to apply those teachings and values today. Complete all 8 sessions to receive a certificate.

Native American Fatherhood & Families Association (NAFFA) created and designed this program for fathers and mothers using a Native American approach. The goal of the program is to strengthen families through responsible parenting. NAFFA teaches parents to connect with their heritage as they become actively involved in the lives of their families. NAFFA welcomes non-natives to participate in our program. When a foster parent or step-parent comes through the program, connections are more fully developed with other parents in the community, thus creating a stronger support network.

Parents, your children are right behind you and they will follow you.

This class is free of charge and consists of 7 weekly sessions that will last up to two hours. We ask that you commit yourself to completing each session. You will need access to a video camera and speaker (smart phone or laptop computer will work) and an area free from distraction. IGNACIO COMMUNITY LIBRARY

For you data geeks out there

By Marcia R. Vining
IGNACIO COMMUNITY LIBRARY

When I first started at ICL back in 2010, many of my friends and acquaintances remarked that it must be so great, having a job where you could read all the time. Well, let me tell you, while I do get to see the new materials that come in, my to-be-read list is miles long while my list of books I've actually read is shorter than I would like.

We're busy here at ICL, and sometimes we get to see the results of all that activity and effort. In Colorado, library staff is required to submit a report with numerical data for what we do. We enter the numbers for program attendance, computer use, checkouts, new cards and much, much more. And, while it's fun and informative to see the data, it doesn't provide much in the way of real information about the impact that the library has in the community.

So, for you data geeks out there; we had 385 new patrons in 2022. We passed out almost 300 Take & Make Kits in 2021 and over 800 in 2022. The Stuffie Sleepover had 62 stuffies participate in 2021 and 82 in 2022. Over

courtesy Ignacio Community Library

10,800 physical items were checked out last year. We're seeing a significant increase in participation in programs and checkouts over the years.

But, what really makes our hearts sing is when someone stops in to let us know how our services and materials have impacted their lives. We have a young man in the IdeaLab whose family has recently returned to the area. He stopped in the library and is now learning electronics and other job skills while also planning to build a computer for himself. He returned because the library had been a safe, welcoming space when he was younger.

Another patron mentioned how the legal clinic has helped her solve some landlord/tenant issues. Yet another stopped in to thank us for the computer help we offered during a job interview process. One parent said that they felt they received some parenting that they were lacking as a child during a literacy event.

These are the comments that keep the library staff coming back year after year. We love knowing that we are making a difference in the lives of our patrons and our community.

While books and reading, ideas and knowledge may have been what led us to working in a library, the passion for people and helping our patrons attain their goals is most definitely what keeps us here and engaged. As always, we hope to see you at the Library!

COMMUNITY CONCERT HALL

Community Concert Hall's Live presents Durango's Balladeer Chacon

Staff report
COMMUNITY CONCERT HALL

The Community Concert Hall at Fort Lewis College presents an intimate evening with Durango, Colorado's balladeer, Thom Chacon as part of their 'Live @ the Smiley Café' series Friday, Feb. 24, 7:30 p.m. at the Smiley Café located in historic downtown Durango.

With an acoustic guitar and a weathered voice, Thom Chacon, breathes life into the characters he creates on paper. His latest nine-song manifesto, "Marigolds and Ghosts" is filled with his one-of-a-kind, hardscrabble American storytelling and has the type of inviting melodicism that will sweep listeners into his deeper meanings.

Chacon delivers his poetic verse and all-American sentiment with the kind of memorable characters you just can't shake. He takes listeners by mule into the high country to fly-fish for trout in his prayer, "Church of The Great Outdoors." "Borderland" answers Neil Young's 2018 call for artists to highlight the plight of children at the U.S.-Mexico border.

courtesy Thom Chacon

Durango, Colorado's balladeer, Thom Chacon.

"Angel Eyes" pays tribute to, as Chacon puts it, "One of my favorite western movie villains," Lee Van Cleef.

Chacon has landed on the cover of the legendary Italian music magazine, "Buscadero" and travels around the world playing his songs: from the intimidating confines of Folsom Prison ("a life-changing experience") to Thailand, India and Europe.

The Smiley Café offers a small, intimate experience for an audience of 50 - creating the perfect "listening room" venue. Beer and wine along with special coffees will be available for sale throughout the evening. Charles Leslie, CCH Director says "we are excited to continue this series to introduce Durango to artists they may not know and vice-versa - and welcome our new sponsor, KDUR - Fort Lewis College Community Radio." Tickets are $25 and on sale at www.durangoconcerts.com, or by phone at 970-247-7657.

The Community Concert Hall is a not-for-profit, multi-use performance venue located on the campus of Fort Lewis College. Its ability to bring a diverse spectrum of shows to Southwest Colorado is made possible through a partnership with the college, a state-supported, independent institution of higher education, and financial and in-kind contributions from generous members of the community.

A Shakespearean Snowdown

Dancers led the parade wearing their best brocade and billowing dresses, a dancer smiles before tossing her LED batons into the air — putting on a show for spectators lined up along Main Ave.

The local brewery, Ska Brewing Co. featured their best brews in costume as they paraded down on the corner of Main Ave. and College Dr., the group also played up-beat music and handed out candy to the many spectators lining the street.

Many floats featured hot air balloon baskets, keeping spectators wowed and warm. Despite freezing temperatures, this year's parade still packed the streets of downtown Durango. Winners for this year's parade were announced at the Main Mall on 8th Ave. following this year's successful event.

Durango welcomed the 44th Annual Snowdown, featuring a Shakespearean theme, beginning on Friday, Jan. 27 and ending on Sunday Feb. 5. The winter celebration takes place annually. Snowdown is made possible by the generosity and creativity of hundreds of local businesses and community members who help to create events each year.

COLORADO TRANSPORTATION

Can cops tell if you're driving high? Yes they can!

Staff report
COLO. DEPT. OF TRANSPORTATION

Sixteen law enforcement officers from across the state will take CDOT's advanced roadside impairment testing course to receive Drug Recognition Expert (DRE) certification starting Monday. With one-third of fatal crashes in Colorado linked to drivers impaired by drugs, alcohol or a combination of substances, advanced training for law enforcement is crucial.

Participating agencies: Alamosa PD, Arvada PD, Bent County Sheriff's Office, Carbondale PD, CSP-Colorado Springs, CSP-Florence, CSP-Fruita, CSP-Glenwood, CSP-Larimer, CSP-Pueblo, Fountain PD, Fort Collins PD, Glendale PD, Mesa County Sheriff's Office, Monument PD, and Pueblo PD.

According to CDOT data, the prevalence of Colorado drivers getting behind the wheel after consuming drugs, alcohol or mulmultiple substances is impacting the safety of drivers on our roads. Law enforcement officers obtain the required training and experience necessary to identify drug and multi-substance impairment during traffic stops in which impairment is suspected. Drug habits change over time so continued training is necessary for law enforcement to keep up with these changing trends.

2021 (the most recent data available) saw an increase in fatalities involving drivers who tested over the 5ng limit for active Delta-9 THC, the impairing substance in cannabis. Com-binning cannabis and alcohol is common and can lead to significant impairment.

A Colorado Drug Recognition Expert (DRE) is a law enforcement officer trained to recognize impairment in drivers under the influence of drugs other than, or in addition to, alcohol. The International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) coordinates the International Drug Evaluation and Classification (DEC) Program with support from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) of the U.S. Department of Transportation. The Colorado DRE program began in 1987.

PINE RIVER SHARES

The “Together We Thrive” quilt was created by seniors through Thrive in Place (TIP), a project of Pine River Shares that provides peer support and resources for aging in place in the Pine River Valley. The quilt will be on display at the Pine River Senior Center from Feb. 7 through March 17. Pine River Senior Center is open on Tues., Weds., and Fri from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and is located at 111 W. South Street in Bayfield, Colo.

The “Together We Thrive” quilt project began in 2021 when Thrive in Place advocates distributed fabric squares and art supplies to their peers, along with the assignment to express a positive way of coping with COVID-19 related stress and uncertainty.

Many thanks to the “Together We Thrive” quilt makers Mary Curtis, Maxine Dvojack, Sara Grover, Sharon Hunter, Brenda Jones, Ramela Munoz, Corrine Nichols, Kay Phelps, Kathleen Reilly, Kate Smith, Rose Marie Swanson and Lisa Van Den Berg. Bayfield textile artist Corrine Nichols provided

NONPROFIT GRANT FUNDING

The Ballantine Family Fund bumps up its average grant size

Response to increased need for SW Colorado nonprofits

Staff report
BALLANTINE FAMILY FUND

In 2022, the Ballantine Family Fund donated a record-setting amount to nonprofits across Southwest Colorado with the goal of enhancing life for all who live in the region. $334,500 was donated to organizations through a quarterly grant application process and additional Core Value grants. The Trustees of the Ballantine Family Fund awarded $284,500 to 113 nonprofit organizations across all sectors in Southwest Colorado through their quarterly grant cycles. The average grant size was $2,518, which is an increase of 25% in the past three years. The counties served include Archuleta, Dolores, La Plata, Montezuma, and San Juan.

A full listing of organizations that received these grants can be found at BallantineFamilyFund.com. To be considered for funding, nonprofits in Southwest Colorado may submit grant applications online at the same web address.

In addition to the quarterly grant awards listed above, the Ballantine Family Trustees awarded an unsolicited $50,000 in Core Value grants to support organizations across the region that are bolstering youth mental health by getting children outside and engaged with one another and with the environment. These grants included support for Audubon Rockies ($5,000), Montezuma Land Conservancy ($9,000), Montezuma School to Farm ($9,000), Southwest Open School ($7,000), and a $20,000 planning grant for a collaboration of four SW Colorado environment organizations serving youth: La Plata Open Space Conservancy, Mountain Studies Institute, San Juan Mountains Association and Southwest Conservation Corps. These Core Value grants are an unsolicited infusion of funds designated for a significant impact in a particular area of need, as identified by the Trustees.

The Community Foundation serving Southwest Colorado supports the Ballantine Family Fund as grant managers by bringing nonprofit knowledge and financial expertise, while the Ballantine Trustees maintain their independence with grant-making decisions and funding priorities.

“For more than six decades, the Ballantine family has been providing substantial resources for our region, and since the beginning of the pandemic in 2020, I’ve witnessed the Trustees doubling down on their commitment to Southwest Colorado,” says Brigger Wrinkle, executive director of the Community Foundation serving Southwest Colorado and grants manager for the Ballantine Family Fund. “The Trustees recognize the needs that have been exacerbated over the past three years and they are responding with even greater impact.”

The Ballantine Family Fund was established in 1957 by Morley C. Ballantine and Arthur A. Ballantine Jr. for the purpose of providing financial assistance to nonprofit causes that benefit the human condition in Southwest Colorado. For more information, visit www.ballantinefamilyfund.com.

Ezra Watts passes the ball to a teammate which takes eye-hand-coordination and words of encouragement from family, friends, and spectators is always expected for these developing basketball players. Many of these players will continue to play basketball into their High School years, some with the same teammates they play with during these younger years.

It's a learning experience for the young players. As each game is played, rules are taught and guidance from referees and coaches alike, help these future stars hone their basketball skills.

Bobcat wrestlers vie for league titles

IHS readies in Dolores for regional

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

For the Ignacio Bobcats, it was a case of 'one for all' at the 2023 San Juan Basin League Championships.

Which meant that for most of IHS' wrestlers competing Thursday evening, Feb. 2, they'd have one shot for all the proverbial marbles, and thus ideal motivation to prepare for the upcoming Class 2A-Region II Championships.

And the 'Cats didn't depart Dolores High School without at least one individual title.

Competing at 144 pounds, lone senior Keaton McCoy went 2-for-2 including a back-and-forth 9-7 win over Mancos' Jacob Martin in the weight's finale as he improved his 2022-23 record to 16-7 overall. Freshman Zane Pontine (25-17), however, had the misfortune of meeting MHS junior Levi Martin in the last 132-pound pairing, and though enduring into the third period, succumbed via pin to the Blue Jay standout.

At 106 pounds, Mancos' Dillon Eichner notched a pin of Ignacio freshman Aven Bourriague, while freshman Dillon Brann lost to DHS' Nathan Hill at 120. Freshman 113-pounder Joshua Kerrigan went 1-1 at the meet, defeating Norwood's Aiden Walton but then losing 6-1 to Dove Creek sophomore Wade Conner in the title match.

Freshman Lincoln deKay lost in the first period of his only bout at 138 to Mancos' Brandon Vannest, sophomore Kendrick Nossaman lost to his Norwood opponent at 157, and sophomore Asher Gallegos, after beating MHS' Bryce Miera, placed second at 150 pounds after losing in the first period to DCHS' Tyson Beanland.

The SJBLers will next head north to Hayden for the aforementioned February 10-11 regional, with all seeking top-four status – locking them in for the CHSAA State Championships, Feb. 16-18 at Ball Arena in Denver – at their respective weights.

Ignacio's girls, meanwhile, are set to next see action at the all-classification Region IV Championships, to be held in Edwards at Battle Mountain H.S. 3A Bayfield's and 4A Durango's girls will compete at the same event.

Five Lady 'Cats were ready to rumble in Dolores, but only one drew an opponent with junior Kacey Brown losing her match at 125 to Nucla's Riley McCabe. Sole senior Faye Hackett (130), Audrey Roderick (120), Marlene Martinez-Perez (135) and Larissa Espinosa (190) each received a forfeit victory.

Lady 'Cats brush off Bayfield, 44-21

Seniors star in win over IML rivals

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Scoreless during a frustrating final three minutes, 33 seconds of the second quarter, and still searching for points beginning the third as visiting Bayfield steadily climbed out of a 15-6 hole, Ignacio turned to a senior to ensure Senior Day success.

Whereas senior guard Laci Brunson's corner three-pointer had put the Lady Bobcats up by nine points approaching halftime, senior forward/center Harmony Reynolds converted a key three-point play after BHS had crept as close as 15-12. Reynolds' and-one triggered a game-altering 10-0 run – highlighted by a Darlyn Mendoza-Lechuga trey and capped by a Reynolds breakaway layup – effectively putting IHS in the clear.

Junior reserve Maci Barnes buried a three late in the third, helping increase Ignacio's rebuilt advantage to 29-16 entering the fourth quarter, when sophomore Marissa Olguin promptly sank IHS' fourth and last triple. Sitting on a comfortable 32-16 cushion, the Lady 'Cats got five more Reynolds points and four more from Olguin down the stretch, during which head coach Trae Seibel was able to get senior reserves Autumn Sage and Alexis Ortiz court time in what ended up being a 44-21 victory.

After making one of two free throws, Ortiz took a

Bayfield barrage breaks Bobcats at home

Quintana's shooting not enough in loss

By Joel Priest
SPECIAL TO THE DRUM

Trailing visiting Bayfield 7-2 after a mutually awful first quarter inside IHS Gymnasium, and 14-4 after Wolverine senior Jackson Queen sank a three-pointer with 4:54 left in the second, Ignacio's boys, hoping to steal a Senior Night win Saturday evening, February 4, suddenly sprang into action.

Sparked by junior guard Phillip Quintana's two three-pointers and a breakaway layup by junior guard Devante Montoya, the Bobcats rallied to tie the score at 17-17 before Queen cashed a trey just before the half-time buzzer. Still with momentum after the ten-minute intermission, the 'Cats at last forged ahead, 22-20, early in the third quarter via Quintana's third triple.

thought, ‘Hey I’m going to make them today!’” Quintana said. “And sure enough, I made all the threes I shot, pretty much – only missed, like, three.”

“Senior Night definitely helped a lot,” he noted. “The speech from my brother got my confidence up, really helped me.”

Hard as it became to believe, the two-point lead was IHS’ only ... and last.

A relative non-factor during the first half, Bayfield senior Lance Mazur nailed a three regaining the upper hand in the 3A/4A Intermountain League clash, and Queen – still red-hot after a 14-point half featuring four treys – followed with another. Mazur then sank yet another bomb, and Queen did likewise with 3:44 remaining in the quarter.

IHS skipper Chris Valdez took a timeout in hopes of stopping the run, but Wolverine senior forward/center Caden Wood answered by swishing a surprise three – inflating BHS’ lead to 36-22 with 2:18 to go.

“Caden takes a lot of jokes and a lot of teasing ... but he’s a good shooter; we knew he could make that shot if he was wide-open,” said Bayfield head coach Scott Key. “They started to key on Jackson and ... I said, ‘If they don’t think you can shoot, spot up when you’re open and knock it down!’”

“We knew that was it right there,” Wood said. “We came out of halftime and every shot just started falling for us. Once our shots started falling we knew no team could hang with us at that point.”

“I thought we’d really come to life,” said Valdez. “Got down by about ten there ... and made a nice run to get within three at halftime, then came out and hit two shots in a row! And then the wheels kind of fell off.”

“When our defense is tight we can stay with anybody, but when our defense starts falling apart ... against a good team like this – they’ve got three or four guys who can knock it down – that’s it.”

Senior Eppie Quintana closed out the third cleaning up a Phillip Quintana miss, trimming the deficit down to 40-27, but despite the younger Quintana canning his fourth and fifth three-pointers during the deciding eight minutes, Bayfield got four more Mazur points and as many from sophomore guard Lincoln Williams in winning the final frame 10-6 and the game 50-33.

“We were definitely coming in here a little bit fatigued and tired,” said Wood, alluding to BHS’ 55-38 loss in La Jara to Centauri the previous night, “but ... you’ve just got to come in here, push through it to come out with a win helping out the team.”

“We were turning the ball over on stupid stuff and once we fixed that it just changed things a lot.”

Queen finished with six threes and a game-high 20 points for the Wolverines (8-9 overall, 2-6 IML), and Mazur booked 14 points in support. Williams totaled eight points and Wood four, as did junior guard Devin Cundiff – given a starting spot with senior Max Meyers up in Fort Collins, performing at the 71st Annual Colorado All-State Orchestra.

“We knew we were walking into a Senior Night – always extremely emotional – and usually Ignacio has one of the greatest home crowds there is. We knew from the get-go that we had to take the crowd out of the game,” Key said. “It didn’t start off as fast as we would have hoped, but they struggled as well.”

“There was a lot of energy in here, guys were overplaying, but we kind of settled down ... and, you know, good things started to happen. At halftime we made some big adjustments and put the pedal down ... got what we needed done, done.”

In a battle where neither team scored for the first miscue-marred 4:15 (Queen then got things going with a three), Phillip Quintana – bouncing back from a zero-point showing in the previous night’s 54-37 loss to Pagosa Springs – totaled 17 points in defeat. Junior center/forward Gabe Cox scrapped for seven, Eppie Quintana totaled four, Montoya managed three and senior Dylan McCaw two – after netting ten against the Pirates, with Cox scoring 12.

“I thought we came out ... with the Senior/Parent Night thing ... just starry-eyed; we couldn’t hit a shot,” said Valdez. “And they were missing wide-open shots – neither of us was guarding the other that first quarter, and still, we couldn’t score!”

“We don’t have any consistent guys right now,” he continued. “Phillip did a good job today ... so if we can get him to be consistent ... then we’ll try to find somebody else on Tuesday, then Friday. Hopefully by the end of the year we’ll go to the district tournament good enough to stay with some of these teams. We’ll work on it, not give up and keep moving forward.”

Stuck in an eight-game slide after a winless January, the Bobcats (3-12, 0-7 IML) will continue league play hosting Montezuma-Cortez (6-9, 2-5) Friday night, February 10, with fourth-ranked [CHSAANow.com Class 3A poll, 2/6] CHS coming to town the next evening to conclude a rugged week. Results from IHS’ game on the 7th at non-league Dove Creek – up a notch to No. 4 in the Class 1A rankings – were unavailable at press time.

CYBER SECURITY

Bennet urges Apple, Google to remove TikTok from app stores

In letter, Bennet calls TikTok an ‘unacceptable threat’

Staff report
OFFICE OF U.S. SENATOR BENNET

Colorado U.S. Senator Michael Bennet called on Apple CEO Tim Cook and Alphabet and Google CEO Sundar Pichai to remove TikTok from their app stores immediately given its unacceptable risk to U.S. national security.

“Like most social media platforms, TikTok collects vast and sophisticated data from its users, including faceprints and voiceprints. Unlike most social media platforms, TikTok poses a unique concern because Chinese law obligates ByteDance, its Beijing-based parent company, to ‘support, assist, and cooperate with state intelligence work,’” wrote Bennet.

In the letter, Bennet highlights the danger of TikTok’s extensive reach in the United States. TikTok is now the third-most popular social media app in the U.S. with more than 100 million American users, who spend an average of more than 80 minutes per day on the app. Bennet describes how the combination of TikTok’s reach, aggressive data collection, and obligations under Chinese law threaten U.S. security.

“Beijing’s requirement raises the obvious risk that the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) could weaponize TikTok against the United States, specifically, by forcing ByteDance to surrender Americans’ sensitive data or manipulate the content Americans receive to advance China’s interests,” continued Bennet in the letter. “No company subject to CCP dictates should have the power to accumulate such extensive data on the American people or curate content to nearly a third of our population.”

Bennet goes on to describe a troubling pattern of behavior at TikTok and ByteDance, including past efforts to limit content critical of the CCP and disseminate pro-Chinese propaganda to American audiences.

“Last year, Congress recognized the unacceptable security risks from TikTok and banned it from all federal government devices. At least 27 state governments have also passed full or partial bans on the app. Given these grave and growing concerns, I ask that you remove TikTok from your respective app stores immediately,” concluded Bennet.

Bennet is a leading voice in Congress urging common-sense policy to hold powerful digital platforms accountable to the public interest. On Sunday, Bennet will deliver the keynote address at Silicon Flatirons, Colorado Law’s flagship conference on “The Internet’s Midlife Crisis.” Bennet will describe the vast and unchecked power of Big Tech over American democracy and society and call for reasserting the public interest through common-sense rules and oversight.

Last year, Bennet introduced the Digital Platform Commission Act, first-of-its-kind legislation to establish an expert federal body empowered to provide comprehensive, sector-specific regulation and oversight of digital platforms to protect consumers, promote competition, and defend the public interest.

In December, Bennet helped pass the Children and Media Research Advancement Act, which directs the National Institutes of Health and Department of Health and Human Services to research technology’s effects on child development. In July 2020, Bennet and then-Senator Kamala Harris (D-Calif.) urged Facebook to heed recommendations of a civil rights audit of the company’s policies and practices by strengthening efforts to protect civil rights, remove hate speech, and combat voter suppression on its platforms. Earlier that year, Bennet wrote to Facebook urging it to assume greater responsibility for the damage its platforms have caused to democratic values around the world, citing examples from Brazil, the European Union, the Philippines, and Myanmar.

General Information: During times of snow accumulations of 5 or more inches, please move your vehicles to the side so the drivers can plow an area for you to park in. Our drivers will do their best to avoid plowing snow behind or close to your walkways and vehicles. Please understand our drivers do their best to serve you and many others during snowstorms and they may be delayed if they get stuck or have equipment failure or difficulties. Also please know our plow drivers must be able to plow snow and cannot devote time to manual snow clearing. If you are Disabled or a Frail Elder and you need assistance with manual snow clearing, please contact Tribal Housing at 563-4710. Information on Tribal Office closures, weather reports, and clinic updates are available by calling the Southern Ute Tribal Hotline at 970-563-4800.

Walkways – Snow Clearing: Snow clearing from walkways will only be done for the Disabled or Frail Elders the order of priority is: 1st) Dialysis Patients; 2nd) the Disabled or Frail Elders; If you believe you should be included in one of the categories, please contact Southern Ute Tribal Housing 970-563-4710.

Roof – Snow Clearing: Snow clearing service from the roof of the home is for the Disabled and Elders. In general, roof snow will be removed if the snow depth accumulates more than twelve (12) inches or to a level where safety concerns are evident or potential damage to roof or structures may occur. Snow will ONLY be removed from areas where the crew can reach safely from the ground. If you believe you need this service, please contact Construction Services Division 563-0260.

Livestock – Snow Plowing: Plowing snow for livestock is done by the Ag. Division and is low on the priority list. There is a minimum charge of $35 due in advance for all livestock snowplowing. The cost is $35 per hour for the first hour and then $30 per hour for time in excess of one hour plus .35 cents per mile one way for travel time on livestock snow plowing. If you believe you need this service, please contact Agriculture Division, Custom Farm at 970-563-0220.

Please remember to move personal items such as bikes, lawn mowers, water hoses, planter boxes or any other item out of the way, so that they do not get damaged by the snowplows.

Note: 1st) Dialysis Patients; 2nd) the Disabled or Frail Elders.

Please contact department to notify them of early morning doctor appointments.

HOUSING DEVELOPMENT

HUD awards $801,249 in historic grants to address rural homelessness in Colorado

Staff report
U.S. DEPT. OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is announcing the first set of communities to receive grants and vouchers to address homelessness among people in unsheltered settings and in rural communities. The national award total is nearly $315 million in grants to 46 communities. The Colorado Balance of State Continuum of Care (CoC), the body that coordinates the local homelessness response system, received $801,249.

“This historic investment in housing assistance, coupled with supportive services, will provide a lifeline to many individuals and families struggling with homelessness across rural Colorado,” said HUD Rocky Mountain Regional Administrator Dominique Jackson. “By looking at homelessness from all angles, HUD is demonstrating its commitment to addressing this crisis in meaningful and sustainable ways.”

In the coming weeks, HUD will be awarding grants to an additional set of communities, as well as allocating housing vouchers to all awarded communities. Together, these grants and vouchers comprise a first-of-its-kind package of resources to help communities provide housing and supportive services to people in unsheltered settings and people experiencing homelessness in rural areas. Communities were also asked to develop a comprehensive approach to addressing unsheltered and rural homelessness that involves coordination with health care providers, other housing agencies such as public housing authorities, and people with lived experience.

“Homelessness is a crisis, and it is solvable. Housing with supportive services solves homelessness. That’s why, for the first time the federal government is deploying targeted resources to meet the needs of people experiencing homelessness in unsheltered settings or in rural areas,” said HUD Secretary Marcia L. Fudge. “With these grants and vouchers, HUD is filling this gap and giving communities the resources and tools to improve housing and health outcomes for people on the streets, in encampments, under bridges, and in rural areas.”

This funding initiative is also the first in which HUD has coordinated grants and housing vouchers. In response to the competitive special Notice of Funding Opportunity, Continuum of Care collaborative applicants were asked to formally partner with public housing authorities to leverage access to housing resources. Public housing authorities partnering with awarded CoC grantees will receive priority for approximately 4,000 Housing Choice “Stability” Vouchers that allow people experiencing homelessness to afford decent, safe, and sanitary housing.

From Day One, the Biden-Harris Administration has taken action to deliver housing relief and to solve homelessness. The American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 provided historic levels of homeless assistance –including nearly 70,000 Emergency Housing Vouchers and $5 billion in HOME Investment Partnership homelessness grants. HUD and the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness (USICH) launched House America, a national initiative in which HUD and USICH partnered with 105 communities led by mayors, county leaders, governors, and tribal nation leaders to place over 100,000 households from homelessness into permanent housing and add over 40,000 units of affordable housing into the development pipeline. In late December, USICH released All In: The Federal Strategic Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness, which set forth President Biden’s ambitious goal to reduce all homelessness by 25% by 2025.

The resources announced today build upon the momentum and renewed political will at all levels of government to solve homelessness through the provision of housing with supportive services. They respond directly to the calls from state and local leaders, advocates, and people with lived experience for more federal assistance to address unsheltered and rural homelessness specifically. And they provide communities with the resources and tools to respond to homeless encampments humanely and effectively and to avoid approaches that criminalize homelessness.

Lewd, crude or rude: Colorado DMV shares 2022’s rejected personalized license plates

Staff report
COLO. DEPT. OF REVENUE

From AYFKM to SHIKAKA, the Colorado Division of Motor Vehicles rejected over 140 personalized license plate requests in 2022 because the sequence was determined to be lewd, crude or rude.

“We love the creativity and personal pride Coloradans take in picking their personalized plate,” DMV Senior Director Electra Bustle said. “While most personalized plates are approved, there are a small percentage that do not meet DMV standards and are rejected.”

The list features requested personalized license plates that were rejected automatically by the DMV’s processing system, DRIVES. The system rejects some requests if they run afoul of the DMV’s offensive and omit list. The list, which has been built over the years, using the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators (AAMVA) recommendations, known offensive words and terms, as well as comparing what other states do not allow. These terms and alphanumeric combinations are reviewed periodically by a committee of DMV staff members. They can be removed from the list by committee vote, or if through a hearing or courts, the DMV is ordered to remove and issue the configuration. A customer may appeal this decision with the Colorado Department of Revenue’s Hearings Division.

Coloradans can personalize many of the state’s 212 license plates at an additional cost of $60 on top of regular fees. Personalized license plate renewal can cost between $25 and $75 and can be completed online, in-office or at an MV Express Kiosk for Coloradans who live in participating counties.

CPW’s big game license distribution

Colorado Parks and Wildlife is considering changes to policies and regulations that direct the distribution of big game hunting licenses in Colorado. did you know?!

Molds can be found almost anywhere. There are molds that can grow on wood, paper, carpet, and food. Unfortunately, there is no practical way to eliminate all mold/mold spores in the indoor environment, but there are steps you can take to control moisture and prevent indoor mold growth.

Mold... no one wants it in their home. Mold produces allergens and can cause health problems. Although mold is naturally found in the indoor environment, it won't grow without moisture.

Take steps to control mold and moisture indoors:

Reduce humidity: use exhaust fans or open windows in kitchens and bathrooms, and use air conditioners or dehumidifiers as needed.

Prevent condensation by reducing humidity, increasing ventilation, or raising the indoor air temperature.

Completely dry any damp or wet surfaces within 24-48 hours, and fix the source of the water problem or leak.

If mold does grow in your home...

Promptly fix the source of any water problems or leaks.

Clean mold off of hard surfaces with water and detergent, and dry completely.

Absorbent materials that have mold growth may need to be replaced — e.g. ceiling tiles, carpet, furniture.

If you are experiencing symptoms that you think are caused by mold, consult a medical professional.
